Federal Planes Drop Bombs On Nogales, Sonora and Rebels Flee to America

NOGALES, Ariz., April 30.—(UP)—An American officer crossed the international line to Mexico today to warn rebels against firing into United States soil as the present revolutionary movement drew to a tense climax in Nogales, Sonora.

The warning caused General Francisco Marquez, unable to control the Yaqui Indian insurgents, to follow other rebel leaders to a refuge in this country.

Colonel A. M. Shipp, commander of the 25th infantry, stationed here to protect American lives and interests, crossed with his regiment after a rebel bullet fell a quarter of a mile over the United States line during an air bombardment.

The federal planes dropped a dozen bombs on the Sonora town and sprayed it with machine gun fire when the rebel garrison refused to surrender.

Deserted by most of its prominent leaders and faced with federal seizure of its last Sonora stronghold, the present Mexican revolt appeared to be near final dissolution today.

The latest blow to the rebel cause was the desertion last night of General Faustino Topete, revolting governor of Sonora, General Topete, his brother General Ricardo Topete and several other lesser rebel leaders, crossed the international boundary line here last night.

A Southern Pacific railroad engineer and fireman left here a short time later for Naco, Sonora. It was reported they were to man an engine to bring a federal troop train to Nogales, Sonora, from the Naco garrison.

Court Arguments In Kelley Case Set For June Calendar

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(UP)—Further arguments on the appeal of Leo P. Kelley, the "butcher boy" convicted of murdering Mrs. Myrtle Melius in Los Angeles August 5, 1928, will be heard by the state supreme court.

The case had been argued before the court and submitted for decision but the submission was set aside and further arguments set for hearing on the June calendar in Los Angeles.

Kelley, who is now in the death row at San Quentin, based his appeal largely on alleged misconduct of James Costello, deputy district attorney, who acted as prosecutor.

APPEALS FINE

NEW YORK, April 30.—(UP)—An appeal from the fine of $300 imposed upon Mrs. Mary Ware Dennett for sending her sex pamphlet through the mails will be filed tomorrow.

Mrs. Dennett was still determined today not to pay the fine but to go to jail instead, because "the government" is physically stronger than I am. It appeared probable that a long court fight was ahead, unless the appellate court reverses the trial court's verdict.

EDITORS HAVE "TOUGH" TIME COMPARED WITH PHYSICIANS

NEWPORT BEACH, April 30.—According to the current edition of the School Pilot, student publication of the Newport Beach grammar school, out today, editors have a tough time in life, compared with doctors. His article follows:

"I don't know how newspapers got into the world, and I don't think God does, for He hint got nothing to say about them in the Bible. I think the editor is the missing link we read of and that he stayed in the bushes until after the flood, then came out and wrote the thing up and has been busy ever since.

"If the editor makes a mistake, folks say he ought to be

Says Officers Joined Wild Whoopee Party

EVANSTON, Ill., April 30.—(UP)—Mrs. Frank Darling wasn't sleeping so well, she complained to police.

"It's because of a whoopee party in the apartment above me," she said. "Will you please send over some officers?"

Forty minutes later, after two patrolmen had been assigned to quell the whoopee party, Mrs. Darling telephoned headquarters again.

"Will you please call those officers in?" she asked. "The party was bad enough without the policemen but now they are knocking all the plaster off my ceiling. And, too, will you send older policemen next time?"

BATTLE OVER LIQUOR ENDS IN 4 DEATHS

Heated Argument Results In Firing Between Members of Two Families

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., April 30.—(UP)—A gun battle over a quantity of liquor at Green Rock creek last night resulted in the wounding of the duels and the killing of four bystanders.

Details of the battle were revealed today when the principals, Wayne Hanna, 22, and a man known as Bennie Sailors were brought to a hospital here.

Two other men, whom Sheriff Adams said were involved, escaped. Hanna may die.

Those killed were Lee Gibson, 45, a hill man; his wife, Cassie, their son, Bennie, 20, and Hanna's brother, Wallace, 12.

Sheriff Adams said Hanna and Sailors began firing after a heated argument over the possession of a jug of moonshine.

The Gibson family and Hanna's young brother, standing nearby, were shot down by the wildly firing duels before they could scurry to cover.

Wayne Hanna was shot in the left lung and may die. Sailors received an arm wound and was lodged in jail after receiving treatment at the hospital.

Sheriff Adams said no charges will be filed pending outcome of Wayne Hanna's condition.

Getzoff Slated To Appear Before L. A. Grand Jurors

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—(UP)—Ben Getzoff, convicted with Asa Keyes, former district attorney, and Ed Rosenberg, financier, of charges of conspiracy to give and receive bribes in connection with the trial of the Julian Petroleum collapse cases, was to appear before the grand jury today to relate asserted additional cases of corruption in the district attorney's office under Keyes.

Getzoff was given probation on his one to 14-year sentence after he confessed his part in the Keyes-Rosenberg-Getzoff conspiracy and told of his knowledge of other alleged similar plots.

11 PAPERS BOUGHT BY POWER COMPANY

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(UP)—Purchase by the International Paper and Power company of interests totaling $10,789,700 in 11 newspapers in eight cities was disclosed before the federal trade commission today by A. R. Graustein, president of the company.

Graustein said his concern now is negotiating for the purchase of an interest in still another newspaper, the identity of which he declined to disclose.

The International Paper and Power company is a subsidiary of the International Paper company one of the largest manufacturers of newspaper paper in the world. Graustein told the commission that the purchase of interests in the various newspapers was prompted by a desire to find a dependable outlet for print paper. The money used in this financing, he said, came from the International Paper company although nominally from its subsidiary.

Funeral Services For Plane Victims Held In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, April 30.—(UP)—Funeral services for William K. Oviatt and Ray Scott, two of the three members of the Hollywood film colony who died in an airplane "joy ride" early Sunday, were held here today.

Rites for Max Fluker, 25, motion picture actor and third victim of the crash, were delayed pending word from relative in New Orleans.

Oviatt, pilot of the plane, was the son of a wealthy theatrical producer of Falmouth, Mass., and the nephew of Charles Murray, film actor.

Formation Of $500,000 Firm Revealed Here

Will Develop and Improve Property at Capistrano Beach Immediately

FORMATION of a $500,000 corporation to develop and improve property along the southern coast of Orange county, with preliminary plans for construction of two business blocks in Capistrano Beach at a total cost of approximately $45,000, was made public here today with the filing of articles of incorporation for the South Coast Securities corporation.

Aaron Buchheim, Capistrano Beach, is one of the leaders in the new project and a member of the board of directors, which also includes A. C. Olsen, Garden Grove; Wilbur M. Gilbert, Capistrano Beach; Edward E. Wilber, Pasadena, and Dr. Paul H. Esslinger, San Clemente. H. F. Kenny, of Dana Point, is among the promoters of the development project.

The first blocks to be built in Capistrano Beach, for which tentative plans are under way, include a business block, on the highway, which will cost about $24,000, according to Kenny. The ground floor will provide two store rooms and the second story will contain apartments. The structure will have an 80-foot frontage on the highway and will be 60 feet in depth.

Another building is planned for a location near the pier and will be an apartment and store building with a 50-foot frontage. It will be 75 feet deep and is estimated to cost $18,000 to $20,000.

The concern will engage in building operations and improvement of property all along the south coast of Orange county and has other tentative plans for development which are as yet in the formative stage. Operations will be carried on wherever opportunity offers.

Election of officers in the corporation was expected to take place today. Capistrano Beach will be the headquarters of the firm. It is expected that $125,000 of the $500,000 authorized in the articles of incorporation will be placed on the market in the near future. There will be 20,000 shares of stock, 10,000 of which will be preferred and 10,000 of which will be common. The par value has been set at $25.

COMPLETE DATA ON PROPOSED DAMS SUBMITTED AT MEETING OF COUNTY SUPERVISORS TODAY

As a climax to 20 months of investigation on the Santa Ana river and its tributaries, Paul Bailey, flood control engineer for this district, filed his engineering report with the board of supervisors today. This report presents a county wide plan of flood control and conservation comprising nine reservoirs on Orange county streams. It is estimated that construction of these works would constitute a $15,000,000 project.

"In every instance reservoir sites were found at which adequate capacity can be obtained with dams of moderate height," the report pointed out. Continuing, it said, "These nine reservoirs will control the flood waters that now waste themselves by spreading out over the Orange county plain or by flowing into the ocean. Not a single stream channel crossing this plain has the capacity to carry even a moderate flood without overflowing its banks. The channel of the largest stream, the Santa Ana river, has capacity to carry not more than one-eighth of a flood like that of 1916. The rest of the flow must dissipate itself by spreading out over the plain. With the vast investments in improved properties in both city and country areas and with the industries and the necessity for continuous communication now developing in Orange county, the dispersion of flood waters over the plain that was formerly not much more than an inconvenience, is now becoming a serious menace to both property and business communication while in congested areas, it is becoming a threat to personal safety.

"The cities of Orange, Anaheim and Santa Ana lie in the possible path of a channel change of the Santa Ana river or of Santiago creek. These two streams have the capacity to produce a flood twice as large as that of 1916 which, it has been estimated, destroyed perhaps a million dollars worth of property, cut off communication between the north and south ends of this plain for over a week's time and drowned four people. Two of these were overtaken by the flood while traveling the highway and two were in a cottage swept away by the flood. Should a flood, even as large as that of 1916 occur at the present time, the consequences would be much more serious than in 1916 because the cities have more than doubled in population and investment in business and residential property, and agricultural values have greatly increased since then.

"Orange and Santa Ana, because of the low ridge built up by Santiago creek, are threatened less by floods than the city of Anaheim, which lies in the path of a natural channel change that, in event of a large flood, would be difficult to avert. Protection works along the river bank cannot confine the river because the present channel is not large enough to carry a flood of any size. The river must break from its banks somewhere. It will probably break at the first weak point. When this occurs for a period of time as it did in a large flood there is danger of the erosion of a new channel. The lay of the land favors such a channel change in the direction of the city of Anaheim.

"For these reasons the flood protection offered by the plan filed today with the board of supervisors is necessary in order to keep conditions for living and doing business in Orange county in the future as favorable as they have been in the past. Without this protection, much of the past effort in building Orange county, the fine homes, the productive orchards, and the enterprising cities

SAYS MELLON IS ENGAGED IN COMMERCE

Senator Walsh Says Secretary Signed Aluminum Contracts in 1925

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(UP)—Senator Thomas J. Walsh, conductor of the Teapot Dome oil investigations, has discovered evidence in a civil suit against the Aluminum Company of America which he believes will have a vital influence on the issue now being fought out in the senate judiciary committee—whether Secretary of Treasury Mellon is engaged in commerce because of his stock holdings and whether this fact should exclude him from office.

Walsh told the United Press today his evidence showed Mellon signed one of the contracts in an aluminum company merger in 1925 while he was secretary of treasury; that he held a dinner attended by all interested parties at this apartment here where the merger was consummated and that he took a trip to Canada to the power site on the Sagunay river, to be operated by the merged companies. Walsh has a photograph made on this trip showing Mellon with Arthur V. Davis, president of the Aluminum company, W. L. Mellon, his brother, the late James B. Duke and a Mr. Allen, associated with Duke.

The evidence, said Walsh, was taken in a suit filed in the New Jersey district court against the Duke estate and the Aluminum company by George D. Haskell, president of the Baush Machine Tool company, Springfield, Mass.

Haskell contended the merger violated the anti-trust law, injuring him as a consumer of aluminum and asked $15,000,000 damages. He obtained judgment for $8,000,000, but the judgment was later reversed by the circuit court at Philadelphia.

A deposition of Mellon's was introduced in the case as evidence, Walsh added. It shows that the parties who were in the photograph taken at Mellon's apartment here and agreed on the merger where-by the Aluminum company would control eight-ninth of the associated companies and the Duke estate one-ninth.

Walsh asserts the evidence refuted the claim of Mellon's supporters in congress that mere ownership of stock in a concern does not conflict with the old federal statute that no secretary of treasury shall be directly or indirectly engaged or interested in commerce or trade. The evidence will be laid before the judiciary

POLY OWL AT HIGH SCHOOL TAKES ON NEW COAT PAINT

"Imagine my embarrassment," sighed the Poly owl today after being stared at for hours without end by curious and interested students looking at the latest coat of paint adorning the wise bird.

The fad, started in dim years past, has been to paint the owl fairly often with some peculiar shade or color. However, the red feathers of the sage today is the first time for many months since the can and brush have been used. Last September, enterprising students braved the ire of the authorities and daubed lustily atop the roof.

It is believed that the custom will die out after the new policy of the authorities has been tried out, that of saying

Woman Near Death After Hotel Fall

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(UP)—Critically injured when she plunged four stories from a fourth-story window of a downtown hotel Miss Betty Tracy, 33, was near death at Central Emergency hospital today.

"If I hadn't done it they would have cut my throat," the woman moaned at the hospital. She also incoherently talked of a man.

Police investigated the possibility that Miss Tracy was forced to jump from the window. She suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Grand Jury Fails To Indict Deputy In Raid Killing

GENEVA, Ill., April 30.—(UP)—The Kane county grand jury today found no indictment against Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith for killing Mrs. Lillian De King while raiding her home for liquor last month, although a coroner's jury had recommended that he be held for manslaughter.

After a two weeks' investigation of the killing, which aroused a nation-wide controversy over the justification for the shooting, the grand jury indicted only one man, Eugene Boyd Fairchild, the under-cover informer whose false affidavit that he had bought liquor at the De King home in Aurora led to the fatal raid. Fairchild was charged with perjury.

Football Star Finds Road To Romance Hard

HARRY Weaverling of Junior College Draws Suspended Jail Sentence

THAT THE course of true love does not run smooth was proved again yesterday in city court when the romance of Harry J. Weaverling, 21 year old junior college football star, and Juliet Evans, 19 year old junior college student, received another jolt in a series of many that has been their lot, according to Judge John F. Talbot, before whom Weaverling was tried on a charge of disturbing the peace on complaint filed by Dale H. Evans, father of the girl.

The court action was the outgrowth of parental objection to the attentions on the part of the young athlete to their daughter, with whom the young man has been keeping company for a period of about 15 months according to the story that came out in court yesterday. Judge Talbot in commenting on the rough path of the romance said the father of the girl had strenuously objected to the presence of young Weaverling with his daughter, and had at one time taken the girl from school in an effort to break off the affair, but that the girl had asserted her independence to the extent of leaving home, obtaining employment and financing the continuance of her school work in this manner.

The father finally relented to the extent of asking the girl to return to the home, Judge Talbot said, and continued to try to get her to promise to quit seeing the football star, but although she came back home she refused to make any promises to that effect. Finally about 10 days ago the parents were successful in winning the promise from their daughter that she would give up the young man, and she called him to the family home, 2113 1-2 North Main street Saturday afternoon to break the news to him, according to the judge.

As Weaverling was not permitted to enter the Evans home, the meeting took place in a car in front of the house, but Weaverling insisted on an opportunity to talk the matter over with the parents. With the assistance of Miss Evans, Weaverling gained admission to the Evans home while attempting to talk the case over with the parents, Weaverling stated to the judge he probably said and did some things he should not have done.

The result of the court action, after Weaverling entered a plea of guilty, was a sentence to 30 days confinement, but the judge suspended sentence on condition that Weaverling stay away from the Evans home unless invited there by the parents.

Radio Used In Search For Missing Woman

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(UP)—Aid of Bay district radio stations in locating Mrs. Margaret Phelps, 37, of Napa Junction, who disappeared last Wednesday, was asked by authorities today.

The stations were requested to broadcast descriptions of the missing woman and to urge that listeners keep a careful watch for her.

Mrs. Phelps was last seen leaving the home of her husband's parents in Berkeley, bearing a suitcase.

James Ross, a former Napa state hospital employee, who was to have met Mrs. Phelps and driven her to Napa Junction, appeared there alone.

He gave the husband a key and remarked, "Your wife will arrive later." Since then police have been unable to locate him.

Manager of Growers' Body To Exceed 1928 Yield By Over 7000 Tons

GOOD PRICE EXPECTED

Farm Advisor Says Buds On Trees in Fine Shape; Frost Hits North Areas

A WALNUT CROP more than twice as large as last year's yield was expected today for the coming harvest season by growers of Orange county. A "normal yield" is in prospect according to John E. Gowen, manager of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association, but a normal production will exceed last year's output by about 7000 tons, it is estimated.

The crop in Orange county last year totalled about 5000 tons. This year a yield of a ton to the acre is looked for and with over 12,000 acres of bearing trees, approximately 12,000 tons of nuts may be expected.

With last year's comparatively small production rapidly vanishing from the market, it is expected that the present crop will enter the field under very favorable price conditions, Gowen said.

Added assurance of a good output this season was seen today in the announcement by W. H. Wright, of the horticultural commissioner's office, that growers are preparing more generally than ever before to spray their orchards for codling moth. Approximately 3000 acres of groves have been inspected during the last six weeks, Wright said, and growers on 4000 to 5000 acres have signified their intention of spraying, a practice vitally essential to protecting the crop.

Frosts and cold weather in northern areas will result in slightly lower yields in those regions and this fact is expected to have a favorable reaction on prices. The effect, however, is not expected to be very marked, according to Gowen.

According to Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg, buds on the trees are in fine shape today and nuts are forming satisfactorily. The past winter, with just enough cool weather, was excellent for walnut orchards, he said. Buds at present are just out of the catkin stage. In commenting on spraying, SACRAMENTO, April 30.—(UP)—The state senate today prepared to invoke the closure rule to limit debate and speed up legislation. A resolution limiting all speeches to 10 minutes except upon unanimous approval of the lawmakers was introduced by Senator Arthur H. Breed, Piedmont, and was ready for final vote today.

Frank Kanieske, 27, lineman, was electrocuted while working on a tangled high tension wire. His body was charred beyond recognition.

Communication systems were disrupted. Telephone and telegraph poles were uprooted by high winds.

committee which has held two executive sessions within a week trying to settle the case and today is engaged in a third session.

The lineup in the committee is said to be close. Mellon's friends say 7 committee members now favor the secretary's cause, 6 are against him and 4 are doubtful. The new Walsh evidence is planned to be used with effect upon the doubtful senators. At any rate the fight is now assuming more serious aspects than at first were anticipated.

The Mellon case was the absorbing topic of discussion in capitol hill, with the house in recess and the senate making slow progress on the farm relief bill. The house will reconvene tomorrow.

Premier Baldwin Emphasizes Power Of Motion Picture

LONDON, April 30.—(UP)—The power of the motion picture and the dangerous consequences to which it may possibly lead if not properly and carefully handled were emphasized by Premier Stanley Baldwin last evening before the International Council of Women.

The premier said that certain films shown throughout the world now were a travesty and one of the great dangers to western civilization. He said:

"It gradually will be instilled in the minds of the somewhat more backward peoples that our civilization is only veneer and sham and may imperil the stability whereby a small minority of whites now live peacefully."

In the last 25 years the use of electrical energy has increased from about 11 billion to more than $1 billion kilowatt hours.

The British Colonial Empire now has an area of 2,000,000,000 square miles, a population of 50,000,000 and an expanding trade of $2,500,000,000.

CITY OFFICIALS 3000 PUPILS IN LINE OF MARCH

The annual Clean-up parade was held in Santa Ana yesterday with city officials co-operating with the school children in an effort to thrust upon the minds of citizens the need and value of care and beautification in business and residence districts alike.

All the vigor and originality of enthusiastic youth was evidenced in the various features of the parade. Trudging with earnest purpose, 3000 children marched through the main streets of the city to urge that attention be given to the appearance of Santa Ana. Costumes, conspicuous in color and variety, and large art posters emphasized the need to clear vacant properties of obnoxious weeds, which, if permitted to stand on lots during the summer, would become fire hazards. Stress was given the idea that individual property owners can have their lots cleaned for less than it would cost the city.

Headed by a police escort, which was immediately followed by Boy Scout pace makers bearing the American flag, came an official car, carrying members of the city planning commission, H. G. Wells, president; Mrs. Dean Collier, Mrs. Clara Cushman and Fred Crowell.

Poly Band Plays
The Santa Ana high school band played martial selections enroute and was followed by the city engineering department. Street sweepers and modern sanitary equipment for civic housekeeping were in the line of march.

Mayor F. L. Purinton, Councilmen Stanley Goode, J. L. McBride and W. J. Kelly, City Manager William Knox and C. L. Jenkins, city engineer, were in another official car.

Following the official cars came the school students bearing posters of striking slogans. "Away with Rubbish," "Pick up Clean-up," "Unseeded Clean City," "Pick Up Cans, Put on Paint, Rake Up Trash," "Pull Weeds, Plant Flowers," "Santa Ana, the Rose City," "Clean Up or Bust," "If You Gamble with Dirt, Use Soap," "España Spain—We Left California Clean, Will You Keep It Clean?"—those were only a few of the slogans carried by the students.

Julia Lathrop junior high school, Frances Willard junior high school and the twelve elementary school had pupils in the parade.

Lincoln grammar school children led, arrayed in costumes of blue and gold, colors with trumpets poised to herald the coming of "King Clean-Up." An ideal home in miniature, built on a toy wagon, was the feature of the Artesia school group. McKinley followed to remind people that this is a city of roses. Jefferson school represented the spirit of cleanliness, with fairies carrying feather dusters and useful brooms.

Historical Characters
The Frances Willard junior high school marched in historical arrangement in scout, Indian, Puritan, Colonial and Spanish costumes. Roosevelt school was led by soldiers and a small house, built on a truck, was an interesting exhibit. The boy white-washing it gave a subtle hint to other citizens. John Muir's delegation wore blue shoulder straps and the Grand Avenue pupils carried art posters with Old Dutch Cleanser the motif of many.

Representatives of Spurgeon school carried California poppies and the Edison school carried palm branches. A tiny house, carried by boys in the group, with their fellow students marching beside and carrying tiny white fences, was followed by boys and girls in flower caps and costumes of garden beauties. Lowell pupils carried brooms and the Delhi students marched with hoses, rakes and trash cans. Every organization of the Lathrop junior high school was significant of its purpose.

Members of the chamber of commerce board of directors in the parade included W. C. Jerome, president; B. E. Morthland, Harry Hanson, Walter Vandermast and Fred Forgy.

Bass Hueter Paint company and the Santa Ana branch of Peck's Pure Paints had entered business display trucks.

Parade in Three Divisions
The line of march started at Fourth and Birch streets and continued east on Fourth to Spurgeon street, where the parade separated into three divisions: northern schools marching north on Spurgeon to Sixth street; east-Fourth to French street; and southern schools marching south on Spurgeon to Second street.

Judges of the parade included Col. M. B. Wellington, Guy Gilbert, Miss Louise Tubbs, Mrs. Fannie Reeves and Mrs. J. T. Wilson. They announced the winners of the Clean-up march today as being Edison school, first award; Delhi school, second, and Julia Lathrop junior high school, third. Prizes will be presented at a later date.

Ridley Smith, general chairman of Clean-up week, and Supt. J. A. Cranston were in charge of the parade.

Walter L. Scott, director of physical education in Santa Ana schools, directed the march. He was assisted by L. W. Archer, assistant supervisor of physical education. Chief of Police L. C. Rogers furnished the police escort and George G. Walker, Scout executive, was in charge of the Boy Scouts of America who were present to assist in handling the traffic.

Wright said that this method of worm control with basic arsenate of lead was recommended without qualification by the horticultural office.

"The work of Professor Quayle in 1920 in the Santa Ana-Tustin district showed that arsenate of lead dust killed about 45 per cent of the worms while spraying reduced the infestation approximately 80 per cent," Wright said. Further tests have shown, he said, that there is practically three times as much poison on the nuts when sprayed as there was when they were dusted. In order to receive the same amount of lead from the dust as is received from 25 gallons of spray on a tree, it would be necessary to apply eight and one-third pounds of dust, according to Wright.

WOMAN SAVED FROM DEATH BY CORONERS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(UP)—Saved from death when two coroners succeeded in resuscitating her, Mrs. Edward Donnell was critically ill today.

The woman, after attempting suicide by asphyxiation at her home, was partially revived by coroners who came to take her body to the morgue.

At the San Francisco hospital today it was said that she had not yet regained consciousness. Her condition was said to be "very poor."

Neighbors ~~and~~ authorities that the woman had been despondent since the death of her mother a year ago.

Well, I said I'd try it a year and if I liked it I'd keep on doing it. The year is up today and I like it—and to celebrate the anniversary I had the windows washed. Although there is no one outside to look in and no one inside has time to look out, seems extravagant. But I just had to do something unusual. Celebrations are always expensive.

Police News

Chief of Detectives Sid Smithwick said today that the solution of the burglary of Pete Krauchi's cook wagon was close at hand. Four Mexican boys, 8 and nine years old, admitted Saturday that one of their number had broken the lock off the wagon with a hammer and that they had loaded a little wagon with some of Krauchi's property, he said. The boys asserted, however, that some man ran them away before they made off with the spoils of their raid and they denied that they took any of the dishes or the stove that Krauchi reported some time ago had been stolen.

Truman Stansbury, arrested April 20 on a non-support charge, was released from the county jail yesterday on his own recognizance by order of Justice Andrew H. Wilson, of Huntington Beach.

Constable Ed Marion, of Anaheim, turned James Espinoza, 44, laborer, who lives in the Colonial camp, in Stanton, over to jail officials yesterday on a non-support charge.

Officers Elliott and Cozad turned firemen long enough last night to extinguish a blaze in an awning in front of a store at the corner of Fourth and Bush streets. The blaze evidently had started from a match or cigarette stub, according to the report made by the officers.

Harry Evans, 38, Negro cook, who lives at 1860 East First street, was arrested by Officers Flower and Swain last night on a drunk charge.

A hot water heater was stolen from the screened porch of a new unoccupied house on Fourth street in Buena Park, recently, according to a report filed at the sheriff's office yesterday afternoon by A. V. Herr, 606 North Ross street, representing the owner of the house, a Los Angeles man. The report continued that all the plumbing in an adjoining house, with the exception of the bath tub, also had been taken.

A charge of failure to provide for a minor child was the cause of the arrest, yesterday afternoon, of Clarence Mason, 27, plasterer, of Costa Mesa, by Officer Nelson. Mason is slated to appear before Judge E. W. Stark, in Anaheim.

Perfecto Trujillo, 45, laborer, of 1077 South Fiddle street, Los Angeles, was arrested by Deputies Carter and Fuller in Los Angeles, yesterday, as he left jail there after having served a sentence for violation of the Wright act. Trujillo is wanted here on a warrant charging burglary.

STATE SENATE WILL INVOKE CLOTURE RULE

cannot call at the county clerk's office to apply in person for a license, may make their application by mail, according to a bill approved by the assembly judiciary committee.

The measure, introduced by Assemblyman H. E. Dillinger, Placerville, originally aimed to repeal the "gin marriage law," requiring a three day notice of intention to marry. It was amended beyond recognition and finally emerged with the single important provision of allowing applications to be filed by mail.

One of the many attacks on the state bar association made by Assemblyman William Hornblower, San Francisco, was successfully on record today by the judiciary committee. A bill to take away from the board of governors of the state bar the power to fix qualifications for admission to practice law was approved.

Any person over 21 presenting testimony of good character, together with proof of three years' study of law, may take the state bar examinations, according to a provision of this bill.

Codification of the laws of the state so that duplications and obsolete laws may be eliminated was also approved by the judiciary committee. The bill providing for this action was introduced by Senator George Rochester, Los Angeles.

Persons suspected of being insane may be arrested and detained by officers on reasonable suspicion, under another bill passed out with a favorable recommendation by the judiciary committee.

Senator Frank C. Weller, Glendale, is the sponsor of this measure, which allows officers a reasonable length of time to secure a warrant. It was opposed in committee by many assemblymen, who declared it placed too much authority in the hands of officers.

Recording of photographer documents was frowned on by the assembly judiciary committee when a bill by Assemblyman Roscoe Anderson, Redding, and Frank W. Mixer, Exeter, on the subject was tabled.

Mandarin orange sections, Cucumber (diced fine), Tokay or Malaga Grapes (seeded and skinned), Water Cress... and, of course, French Dressing made with Wesson Oil.

The cleverest the hostess the more imaginative and different are her salads. And you'll find, too, that her French Dressing is usually a distinctly individual creation.

Two parts Wesson Oil, one part lemon juice or vinegar; salt and pepper—then whatever strikes your fancy: for instance, a little sugar, ketchup, chopped mint or anything else that suggests itself. Paprika, of course, for color. There are scores of delightful variations to suit your personal taste—any one of which will lend unusual savor and zest to even your most piquant salad.

Isn't it nice to have a different dressing for every salad? The Wesson Oil recipe book has suggestions for eighteen different kinds of French Dressing. Send for it. Address the Wesson Oil and Snowdrift People, 112 Market Street, San Francisco, California.

DEAD WOMAN IS IDENTIFIED AS BAY CITY NURSE

The woman who died in the Orange County hospital, last Thursday, under the name of Gertrude O'Donnell, was identified today by Los Angeles authorities as Mildred Irene Graham, a nurse, of San Francisco, through the medium of fingerprints taken yesterday by Herman J. Zabel, fingerprint expert in the sheriff's office here.

Mrs. Graham, who was taken to the hospital, in an unconscious condition from her room in a Santa Ana hotel, on April 21, apparently suffering from alumnal poisoning, died without regaining consciousness. No marks of identification were found in the woman's effects and all efforts to learn who she was had been unavailing until today.

The autopsy conducted by Dr. Oleson, of the Orange County hospital, revealed that death was directly due to bronchial pneumonia, although marks on the body showed evidence of addiction to drugs, it was said. Dr. Oleson stated that a quantity of drugs was among her belongings.

The word from Los Angeles carrying identification stated that she had been arrested there a few years ago for violation of the state narcotic act.

PLAINTIFFS TO APPEAL DEAN DAMAGE ACTION

Following a denial of a motion for a new trial in their unsuccessful lawsuit against Priscilla Dean Arnold, in which they were seeking $61,151 damages, Charles C. Ross and Sarah E. Ross, of La Habra, today had filed notice of their intention to appeal the case to the district court of appeals. The case was based on an automobile accident in Anaheim on Nov. 23, 1927.

Motion for a new trial was denied last Friday and today plans were being made for carrying the case to a higher court. In the case tried here before a jury in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court, a verdict in favor of Miss Dean, wife of Lt. Leslie Arnold, famous "round the world flyer," was returned.

A similar case against the picture star, brought by Roy and Annis Ross, in which $45,650 damages were asked as a result of the same accident, was not brought to trial following the outcome of the first case. According to the complaints, the Dean car hit the Ross machine from the rear at the intersection of Broadway and Los Angeles streets, Anaheim, injuring the plaintiffs.

Miss Dean's testimony was to the effect that the Ross machine stopped at the intersection and that her car also stopped. The Ross car started again and stopped suddenly a second time, and the Dean automobile hit it, according to Miss Dean's story.

OVER $1000 IN FINES LEVIED BY MORRISON

Over $1000 in fines was assessed yesterday afternoon by Justice Kenneth Morrison, who handed out two fines of $250 each, one of $500 and one of $15, and a 30-day jail sentence.

The $250 fines both were paid, as was the $15, but the $500 defendant is in jail. Henry Sanks, who was arrested Thursday, paid one of the quarter thousand dollar assessments on a charge of possession of liquor after a charge of sale of liquor was dismissed on the motion of the district attorney. H. C. Mansfield, of Fullerton, who was arrested early Sunday on a charge of reckless driving, paid the other $250 fine.

Ora S. Ammons, of Sunset Beach, was the defendant who took the rap at $500 for possession of intoxicating liquor after a raid made Sunday by deputy sheriffs.

Boris Misherakoff, a Russian chauffeur, living at 3447 Eagle street, Los Angeles, paid $15 after being found not guilty on a charge of driving on the left side of the road. Thirty days in the county jail was the penalty handed out by Justice Kenneth Morrison for intoxication to B. W. Lofgren, who was arrested Sunday by State Traffic Officer Jim Cain. Lofgren is a painter and paper hanger from Los Angeles.

TAX PROPOSED FOR FOREST FIRE FUND

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—(UP)—A tax of one-half cent per $100 of appraised value would be levied on all county lands for the purpose of creating and maintaining an organization to fight forest fires, according to plans proposed today by George H. Cecil, manager of the fire prevention department of the chamber of commerce.

These fires, he said, annually destroy large areas of the watershed that produce approximately $80,000,000 worth of agriculture. At present, the only protection available is through volunteer groups and forces loaned to the forestry department by large citrus ranches and packing houses.

BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, April 30.—Mr. and Mrs. John Page were entertained with an evening party on Wednesday, honoring the teachers of the Buena Park grammar schools and the members of the executive board of the P.-T. A. and their husbands. Many interesting games were played during the evening, prizes being won by Mrs. E. A. Kinney, Miss Carolyn Airy, Miss Marjorie Abernathy and A. F. Corey. Delicious refreshments were served at a late hour. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Corey, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Robeson, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Renne, Mesdames E. A. Kinney, Ernest Robinson, Georgina Boyd, David Lemke and L. H. Borden and the Misses Marjorie Abernathy, Mary Nelson, Carolyn Airy, Georgina Baker, Mabel Looney and Irma Weise.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Thurman and daughter, Ruth Ellen, and R. H. Meyer enjoyed a motor trip to Mecca, near the Salton Sea on Sunday. Mrs. Meyer, who had spent a week visiting friends there, returned home with them.

Robert Seamans, of Fullerton, district manager of the Automobile Club of Southern California, gave an interesting talk on the "Fundamentals of Kiwanis" at the meeting of the Buena Park Kiwanis club on Tuesday evening. Bob Warlamont was program chairman and introduced his three-year-old daughter, Dorothy Marie, who gave a clever interpretation of the "Booster" song, responding with several encores. There were 30 members and visitors present.

New Books IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

By Jeannette McFadden

The Mexican is the common denominator between the United States and Mexico. Both share in his muscle, both have a chance to know his emotional and artistic nature, and both face the problem of how to overcome the baleful effects of the land system which has dwarfed him mentally and spiritually.

"That Mexican" by Robert N. McLean gives us some facts that will help us to understand this people. Not Mexico but Mexicans, not diplomacy but human values is the theme of this book. Juan Garcia, in the concrete, is pictured in all the varying phases of his life—his hereditary economic problems, his national aspirations and political struggles, his moral standards, his cultural interests, his religious life and church organization.

The Mexican north of the Rio Grande, as well as south of it, is taken into the picture, important chapters having to do with the Spanish speaking immigrants. Upon a confused situation, with reference to which most people have only a scanty store of knowledge and a large bundle of prejudices, this book sheds a flood of light. Dependable in its facts, resting on first-hand study, written in a thoroughly readable and charming style, this book will do much to bring about a greater friendliness with our southern neighbors.

In order to understand our own country as well as others, it is necessary to take into account big business. In "John Jacob Astor" by Arthur D. Howden Smith, we see a man who was rightly dubbed Landlord of New York, Fur King, Father of the Trust, and Apostle of Empire. He is strolled here without apology.

The founder of big business in the United States used to play his flute for the Indians in order to get the lowest price on pelts. He bought Broadway lot by lot, he broke the Embargo with one of his ships bound for China, he pyramided industries a century before Stinnes was born.

This is more than the biography of one man. It is a picture of the first sixty-four years of our national existence, the development of the West, and the rise of business in the East.

In many ways this arrogant individualist, this selfish, narrow-minded man seems to be the American spirit embodied. It has also its attractive side. There is courage and masterful resolve, sincerity, and meditation. It is our problem to develop the worth while and subliminate the less desirable traits.

In the man's whole character, good and bad together, there is something baffling attractive. His life story is compelling in its interest.

Anaheim Firemen Makes Three Runs

ANAHEIM, April 30.—Three fire alarms were turned in yesterday. The first alarm was sounded early in the morning, when a garage at the home of J. H. Clements, 747 North Sabina street, caught fire. A car in the garage and the building were destroyed. The loss was placed by Fire Chief Nyboe at $200.

Two other alarms were turned in about noon. The first was the result of a motorcycle becoming ignited from back-fire. The ownership of the vehicle was not established. Firemen extinguished the flames with chemicals.

A brush fire in the 800 block on North Clementine street took firemen out again almost as soon as they had returned from the motorcycle fire. No damage was caused by the burning brush.

SHOP TO MOVE

ORANGE, April 30.—Miss Dorothy Perkins expects to move the Dorothy shop in the course of a few weeks to the building next to her present place of business, and which is now being remodeled for her. WILL OBSERVE Y. M.-Y. W. DAY IN S. A. COLLEGE

That Bishop Paul Jones, of the board of reconciliation of the Y. M. C. A., will be unable to attend a banquet of the Santa Ana junior college students, at which he was to have been the speaker, has brought a change in plans for the Y. M.-Y. W. day, which is to be observed in the college tomorrow.

A round table discussion, at which time Jones will speak on war and disarmament, is to be held in the Y hut on the campus as a substitution for the banquet.

The Y. M.-Y. W. day observance is to open at 10 o'clock with personal discussions between the students and Bishop Jones. At noon a luncheon is to bring the cabinets of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. together with Jones as the advisor on the problems which confront the two organizations.

An assembly, at which time Jones will address the entire as- sociated students, is to be held at 1 o'clock. Dedication of the Y. M. C. A. social room, which has been refurnished and furnished as a gathering place for the men of the college, is to be held during the assembly hour.

Later in the afternoon the round- table discussion is to be held, with refreshments being served by the Y. W. C. A. Miss Mary Bruner, president of the Y. W. C. A., will be in charge of the discussion program. George Tobias, president of the Y. M. C. A., is to preside over the day's program.

BREAKFASTERS INITIATE GROUP IN LONG BEACH

Twenty-two members of the Santa Ana Breakfast club arrived at the Pacific Coast club, in Long Beach, at 7:20 a. m., today, and demonstrated the spirit of youth (Santa Ana brand) before members of the Long Beach ham and egg aggregation and initiated a group of new members. Guy Gilbert, president of the Santa Ana club, was in charge of the initiation ceremonies.

D. C. Clanton, director of the Santa Ana Municipal band, and Georgia Belle Walton, accompanied by Miss Allien Lair, delighted the joint meeting with musical numbers. Clanton played "The Kiss" and "On the Road to Mandalay," as trombone solos, while Miss Walton played two violin solos.

Guy Gilbert was in charge of the meeting after Dr. Cleon Mason, president of the Long Beach club, had opened festivities. Gilbert introduced Mayor F. L. Purinton, City Manager W. G. Knox, George Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, Sheriff Sam Jernigan and District Attorney Z. B. West Jr.

The Long Beach club's contribution to the entertainment included a bango duo, appearing as "Sam and Joe" in a Long Beach theater; the Johnson sisters, saxophonists, accompanied by Miss Irma Adams, and other vaudeville acts. Jimmy McGarrigues, member of the Long Beach club, sang "On the Road to Mandalay."

Members of the Santa Ana club attending the meeting, in addition to those introduced by Gilbert, were John Knox, Bruce Switzer, Herbert Allemen, D. L. Montanna, Dr. K. H. Sutherland, John A. Hancock Charges Pomona Man With Theft Of Diamond Charged in a complaint filed by Dr. J. W. Hancock with the theft of a diamond ring, valued at $175 and belonging to Mrs. Hancock, L. E. Wall, 37, who gave his address as 496 East Tenth street, Pomona, was arraigned before Justice Kenneth Morrison yesterday on a formal charge of petty theft. He will answer to the arraignment tomorrow.

Wall, who was arrested yesterday afternoon in the office of Dr. Hancock, by whom he had been employed, admitted the theft of the ring, according to a statement made by Chief of Detectives Sid Smithwick this morning.

Smithwick said that Wall was alleged to have taken the ring from a desk where Mrs. Hancock had placed it and to have sold it in Los Angeles for $30 after an unsuccessful attempt to dispose of it in Pomona.

The ring was taken last Thursday, according to Smithwick, who also said the prisoner is supposed to have a prison record.

40 AND 8 OPENS CAMPAIGN TO RAISE FUNDS FOR WORK AMONG CHILDREN OF COUNTY

La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux of Orange county has opened headquarters in the American Legion hall, here, to handle all business in a drive to raise funds for the express purpose of carrying on their underprivileged child movement throughout the county.

The leading event of the campaign will be a "Miss Orange County" election. A number of young women from various parts of the county will take part in this event as candidates for election. Each candidate will be supported by a campaign manager, who will supervise and advise and assist her with her campaign, which will consist of securing votes or ballots. The candidates have been carefully selected, taking into consideration at all times their ability to create and stimulate the proper enthusiasm in their individual campaigns.

The committee wishes to convey to the general public the positive fact that the Miss Orange County election is in no way to be considered either a popularity contest or a beauty show. There are four prizes to be awarded in this event. A coupe, fully equipped, and two diamond rings and diamond studded wrist watch will be awarded at the Charity ball in the American Legion hall, Orange, on Monday night, June 3 which is to be the final night of the campaign.

A dinner party has been arranged for the candidates, their campaign managers and the 40 and 8 committee to open the campaign. This will be held in the Santa Ana cafe tomorrow night. At that time the candidates will be given complete instructions as to the method to use in carrying on their individual campaigns. Another feature of this campaign will be the Better Baby show. It is the desire of La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux of Orange county to find the nearest perfect baby. Every child in Orange county under 3 years of age will be eligible and should be registered at once. Entrants are asked to mail in the coupon printed in this issue of The Register or bring it to the headquarters or send the name, address, age and parents' names and the mother will be notified at once as to the time of her baby's examination. The entries will be examined by a staff of competent physicians and nurses. They will be graded on points in physique and awarded ribbons and prizes.

167 YOUTHS IN ATTENDANCE AT SWIM CLASSES

According to R. C. Smedley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., the first day's classes in swimming at the Y. M. C. A. were attended yesterday by 167 boys, each of whom was given his first instruction on how to swim.

Many who had enrolled were unable to be present because of the cleanup parade in the afternoon, but they will be given instruction tomorrow, Smedley said.

The swimming campaign is part of the program of National Boys' week, sponsored here by the Y. M. C. A., as a means of calling attention to the needs and opportunities of the boys of today.

The week's program will include special boys' events sponsored by service clubs and churches.

As a culmination of the week's program, Secretary T. P. McKee has arranged for a picnic for younger boys in Irvine park on Friday afternoon, after school, and

Bathing and Melo just go together

The man, woman or child who bathes and doesn't use Melo to soften the water doesn't know what they are missing. Melo softens hard water. It makes a delightfully sudsy bath. It doesn't let the water form a dirty ring around the tub. That's good news to women who scrub off the dirty ring! Water softened with Melo is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. Melo saves soap, too, from 1/3 to 1/2 the amount ordinarily used. It makes soap much more effective. Use it wherever you need soft water. Get it at your grocer's.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN IN YAW CONCERT

Probably no event in recent musical history has attracted such interest as the return to the concert stage of Ellen Beach Yaw, California's famous songbird, whose golden voice encompasses two full octaves in its range, and whose appearance in Santa Ana, next Friday night, is promised as one of the outstanding entertainment events of the year.

For a number of years Madame Yaw deserted the concert stage, living in retirement in her home in Covina and travelling abroad. But coming from her comparative seclusion, a few months ago, she met with a heart-warming welcome and critics have had only the highest praise for her lovely voice. It will be under the auspices of Julia Lathrop P.-T. A. that Mrs. Yaw will be introduced to music lovers in this city and Mrs. Fred Triplett, president of the association; Mrs. Roy Horton, entertainment chairman; and Mrs. Frank Lansdown, in charge of ticket sales, and Mrs. Adelaide Lowe have functioned tirelessly as a committee in carrying out details of the concert plan.

Mrs. Triplett, Mrs. Horton and Mrs. Lansdown spent a delightful afternoon in Mrs. Yaw's Covina home in completing preparations for her engagement and returned home brimming with enthusiasm regarding the personal charm of the artist. The program which she will present Friday night was outlined to them and all expressed themselves as satisfied that it would yield an evening of pure enjoyment to the audience in the high school auditorium.

Mme. Yaw will be accompanied by Miss Georgiella Lay, talented pianist, who will contribute several piano solos to the program. The first vocal group of the evening will include "Perla Gloria" by Buonocini; "Who Is Sylvia?" by Schubert; "Ave Marie" by Schubert, and "Theme and Variations" by Proch, after which Miss Lay will play Liszt's "Venice and Naples." The second song group will open with "Hymn and Solel" by Alexandre George, followed by "La Temps des Lilas" by Chausson; "Mandoline" by Debussy; "Aid de Louise" by Charpentier, and the famous "Shadow Song" from Meyerbeer's "Dinorah."

Miss Lay will play two MacDowell compositions, "Praedidium" and "Claire de Lune," and "Valse Gracie" by Horatio Parker, and Mme. Yaw's generous spirit will be expressed by the final group in which will be included "The Nightingale of Lincoln's Inn" by Herbert Oliver; "Cicilia Mia" by Mary Carr Moore; "Corn Grinding Song" by Anita Baldwin; "Tally-Ho" by Leon, and "The Skylark" by the diva herself.

Proceeds For Radio
The concert will begin at 8 o'clock and proceeds from the evening of music will go towards installing a means of further music in Lathrop school—a radio.

Concert tickets have been placed on sale at various points in the city including the high school office, Grand Central Market Flower shop, Santa Ana Book store, and may also be obtained from Mrs. Lansdown, Mrs. Horton and members of the Parent-Teacher association of the school.

FOREST WORK DESCRIBED ON TOUR TO PEAK

Practically every community in Orange county was represented on the forestry tour held recently under the auspices of the U. S. forest service, the Orange County Forest Protective association and the farm bureau. Seventy-five people in 18 cars joined the caravan starting at Irvine park at 9 a. m. At the top of the grade on Black Star road, known as Oak Flats, the delegation was met by L. H. Anderson, supervisor of Cleveland forest, and his assistant, J. K. Munhall. They took the group on a newly constructed three-mile motor road to Sierra peak, where they were shown the site of the temporary lookout station connected by phone.

Former Supervisor E. J. Elliott explained the new method of constructing firebreaks by the use of heavy machinery, including tractors and heavy graders. The work formerly done by hand cost between $500 and $800 per mile. With modern machinery this cost has been reduced to $125 per mile for firebreaks and $65 per mile for motor ways.

During the afternoon a demonstration was given showing the use of the heavy machinery near Sugar Loaf peak, a point seven miles south of Oak Flats. A 60-hp tractor pulling a heavy duty grader moved its way through the heavy brush on the ridge in much the same manner as the war tanks. Everything went down in front of it. Ranger Munhall said it takes about three days to complete a mile of 50-foot firebreak. Present plans are to build a motor way and break to the top of San Jacinto peak, an elevation of over 5600 feet, and then south towards San Juan. This work is financed co-operatively by the federal forest service and the county.

At noon the delegation enjoyed a camp dinner as guests of the forest service.

Among the officials present were L. H. Anderson, supervisor of Cleveland forest; J. K. Munhall, ranger, Cleveland forest; E. J. Elliott, supervisor, San Bernardino forest; Charles Chapman, Orange county supervisor; T. E. Stephenson, postmaster, Santa Ana; William Jerome, county auditor; John Ragan, president Orange County Forest Protective association; E. E. Campbell, president Orange County Farm bureau; W. H. Couper, state forest ranger; L. S. Percy, Los Angeles county forestry department; B. Brown, road foreman.

Here's SUPERIOR Quality

No Premium In Cost

ARE you under the impression, because Goodyear Tires are so very much better, that they cost any more to buy?

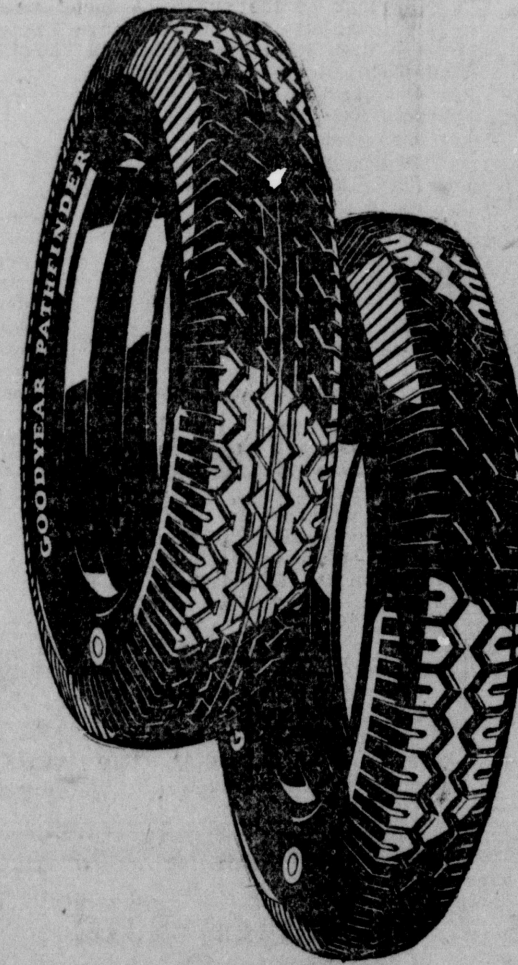

As a matter of fact, Goodyears ARE PRICED AS LOW AS OR LOWER THAN OTHER TIRES.

What is this "superior quality" which Goodyears possess? Can it be demonstrated and proved? Yes!

There are two main parts to a tire: the outside tread; the inner carcass. Take the tread—we can demonstrate why Goodyears have superior treads, in TRACTION and in LONGER WEAR. The finer appearance of a Goodyear tread speaks for itself.

Take the carcass—on a cord-testing machine you will be shown the superiority of Goodyear's patented Super-twist Cord which is used to make the plies of cord fabric in the carcass.

Building millions more tires than any other company, Goodyear can manufacture for less. This makes possible a superior quality at no premium in cost.

Millions More People ride on Goodyear Tires

You will see how Supertwist STRETCHES and COMES BACK like a rubber band, while other cord stays stretched. You will see how Supertwist stretches up to 60% farther before it breaks.

The meaning of these cord-stretching tests is this: a Goodyear Supertwist carcass, because it can absorb more road shocks and withstand more bending under the wheel to cushion your riding, is the longest-lived carcass known to the tire industry.

The proof that these superiorities of tread and carcass are real is MORE PEOPLE—MILLIONS MORE PEOPLE—RIDE ON GOODYEAR TIRES. Experience with all tires has conclusively demonstrated that Goodyears outwear any other kind, dollar for dollar.

YOUR OLD TIRES WILL PARTLY PAY FOR NEW GOODYEARS!

In 10 Capitals of Europe The World's Greatest Beauty Specialists say

"Wash your face with a soap of palm and olive oils to safeguard lovely complexions"

In addition to my own beauty products, I always recommend that my fashionable clients use Palmolive Soap.

I find that Palmolive, by cleansing the pores thoroughly, leaves the skin in a smooth, healthy condition.

I earnestly recommend that my clients use only Palmolive Soap. If they comply with my wishes I then know that the good effects of the treatment they get in my salon are not offset by the ill effects of soap not specially made to retain the bloom of a good complexion.

VIENNA
BUDAPEST

I urge my clients to use no soap other than Palmolive, which provides absolute skin cleanliness, the foundation of beauty and at the same time avoids all the harsh effects of soap not made exclusively of these oils.

Bella Jacobson
LONDON

No amount of expert beauty treatments can overcome the bad results of improper home cleansing. We, therefore, advise all our clients to use a home beauty method which involves Palmolive Soap. It provides that type of cleansing which is the very foundation of beauty.

P. de Neuville
ST. MORITZ
ZURICH

The world's outstanding authorities tell why they urge one soap and one alone to retain exquisite complexions. Treatments they have patrons follow at home.

THIS is probably the most remarkable advertisement you have ever read concerning beauty and how to foster it. On this page is given the professional advice of the outstanding beauty specialists of Europe. Authorities of such prominence that their names, who come from every corner of the world, include royalty, aristocracy and those women whose enviable position in social and stage circles rests largely on their beauty. Their statements should be read by every American woman.

This advice represents the deliberate judgment and recommendation of beauty authorities who, in their own country, enjoy the same professional standing in questions of beauty culture as do the great physicians in matters of health. Their measured words embodied in signed statements tell you the best way experience has taught them to safeguard the complexion.

All agree on choice of soap

As you read, notice how all agree on the necessary use of soap for thorough cleansing. This means that while they recommend their own exquisite creams for certain uses, innumerable experiments have taught them no other cleansing agent can take the place of palm and olive oils in soap.

Note, too, that each corroborates emphatically the opinion of the celebrated Vincent of Paris when he says, "We urge patrons to wash their face with one soap and one soap only—that of palm and olive oils, Palmolive." This means the greatest beauty authorities in Europe today go on record as urging the use Efficient but gentle cleansing of the skin at home is an absolute requirement of success in our work. We have decided that the simplest method is by far the best of all. That is the consistent, thorough use of Palmolive Soap, which combines deep cleansing with the well-known cosmetic effects of palm and olive oils.

of Palmolive Soap above any other known for the complexion.

Throughout America, too

In every city of any importance in America, too, the foremost beauty specialists repeat the words of their European contemporaries... such eminent figures as Huldah and Carter in Chicago, Pierre in New York, Rudolph in Detroit, Mrs. McGavran in Kansas City, Hepner in Los Angeles, Russo in Boston, Bookhammer in Atlanta, and literally hundreds upon hundreds of others equally as prominent. And in Hollywood, home of lovely stars of the cinema, every leading beauty shop urges only one complexion soap—Palmolive.

These recommendations explain the tremendous world-wide popularity of Palmolive and tell why it's the largest selling toilet soap, not only in the United States, but in 48 other countries. Ask your own beauty shop, read the statements on this page, begin the world-famous Palmolive beauty treatment in your own home today—quite inexpensively. Palmolive by the cake costs but 10c.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY COMMUNITIES

Newport To Vote On Port, Street Work At Same Time

WEDGING BID ACCEPTED BY BEACH COUNCIL

NEWPORT BEACH, April 30.—It possible the $155,000 bond of the city of Newport Beach for improvement of the harbor entrance and the district election for the improvement of Central avenue between Alvarado and B streets will be called on the same day, to save expense and get out a large vote for both issues.

This was the sentiment expressed by the members of the city council last night, when final decision as to the voting date on both matters was delayed for two weeks. June 10 is the date on which both issues will go before the people, if the proceedings can be put through in time.

The harbor work under this bond issue, if approved, is planned for next fall, the best time of the year for such work, according to City Engineer R. L. Patterson. The work on Central avenue also will be done in the fall, so as not to interfere with the heavier summer traffic on the street. This will provide a wider roadway on both sides of the P. E. tracks between Alvarado and B streets, the two railway tracks now laid being taken up and one laid in the center of the street.

The harbor work will provide for dredging a channel 15 feet deep and 100 feet wide for the entire length of the harbor entrance, also for the construction of groins on the west side of the west jetty, on its inside and on the Corona del Mar side of the entrance.

The council accepted the bid of the Newport Boat Builders, Inc., the only one submitted, for preliminary dredging of the port entrance. This is to be done at once, and work will probably be under way within a week. It will make the entrance channel 10 feet deep at its shallowest point at low tide.

The bid offered to remove 17,000 cubic yards of sand at 32 cents and 2000 yards at another point at 50 cents, a total of $6440. This was slightly higher than the estimate made by the city engineer.

A resolution was passed at last night's meeting to refund taxes paid by property owners in the improvement district formed for the Central avenue improvement work, on which an election was held last June. Owing to legal technicalities the proceedings had to be done over again, but taxes were collected, and these will have to be refunded.

A new petition was presented to the council last night by voters of the district asking that the proceedings be carried through again, and City Clerk Alfred Smith found that it contained the requisite number of signers.

A wire was read from the Golden State Holding company, claiming an interest in certain lands in the bay, and offering to sell all its right, title and interest to the city for $1000. The wire was filed.

A letter from San. Hiram Johnson to Representative Phil D. Swing was read, in which the senator California senator offered every co-operation to Swing in efforts to secure federal aid for Newport harbor.

The council will meet again next Monday evening.

BENEFIT PLAY DRAWS LARGE BEACH CROWD

NEWPORT BEACH, April 30.—The Harbor Community players presented the last play of the season to a well filled auditorium. The affair was a benefit for the Civic league, which was seeking to meet its taxes on the new clubhouse opened last spring. Dancing girls from the Gertrude Stebbins Conservatory of Expression and Dancing preceded the farce which was the event of the evening.

Among the dancers were Theresa and Genevieve Hammond, Betty Ellen Mitchell, Genevieve Glover, Norma Chamberlain, Ruth Marie Summons, Billie Hammond, Rowena Vosburgh, Virginia Lee, Beverly Wiendorf, Carol Lee and Georgia Donley. Mrs. Harry Rider accompanied the dancers, who were directed by their teacher Miss Gertrude Stebbins.

A rollicking farce "Trials of Matrimony" written and directed by Mrs. Florence Summers, production manager for the Harbor Community players, was presented.

The entire act was in two scenes. Jack Summers, as Eloise Flop, and Gus Wurdinger as Algernon Flop, were leading characters. They were supported by Mrs. Sara Bowman as Aunt Susanna Smithers, the vinegar tongued spinster. Mrs. W. W. Brown as Mrs. Araminta Snooty and Mrs. Josephine Wiley as Penelope Frye, the meddlesome and sympathetic gossiping neighbors.

Clara Wells of the Newport Beach police force acted as the policeman who served the divorce papers. The Harbor Concert orchestra of 14 pieces, directed by Roy Updike, provided excellent music for the evening. Mrs. George Garfield and Mrs. Frank Smith, talented vocal artists, sang popular songs accompanied by the orchestra. The Wright sisters, Marion and Eloise, were heard in a character song.

Bill Evans, Henry L. Farrell, Frank Getty, Robert Edgren, George Kirksey and Davis J. Walsh are just a few of the sports experts who contribute regularly to The Register.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
The Giants are now allowed to wear their uniforms in the hotel before they go to the park. . . . Joe Becker, former umpire in the Pacific Coast League, was out hired this year. . . . The league proxy asked him to work in the 1929 play-off series for the pennant. . . . And he said he had sickness in the family. . . . Wesley Fessler, that great football man at Ohio State, goes around the campus wearing his freshman sweater. . . . Although he has two with the varsity "O" on 'em. . . . Howdy Harper, that great football man from Carnegie Tech, is going to coach the freshmen at his alma mater. . . . Princeton says they cannot spring football practice because it didn't do the fellows no good. . . . Harry Hellmann should have told "Bucky" Harris that he was being sued for $75,000 on a real estate deal. . . . And "Bucky" might have said he was thinking of staying out late and thinking about something else than baseball. . . .

NOT ONE PHONEY
"How many fixed fights were you ever in?" Jack Britton was asked by an expert during the course of a fanning bee in Miami Beach before the Sharkey-Stribling fight.

Britton, if it must be explained, is a former welterweight champion of the world, an old man who is still fighting and a boxer regarded as one of the cleverest that ever pulled on a glove.

"I never was in a fixed fight," Britton replied in his quiet gentlemanly way, but there was a spark of intense resentment in his eyes. "I have been fighting longer than the record books show and I never have been in a fight that wasn't on the level."

"There have been a lot of comments made about all the fights I had with Ted Lewis and the one I had with Benny Leonard when he fought me for the welterweight championship. . . . But I tell you that the hardest fight I ever had was against Lewis. He wasn't a sportsman and any man who ever fought him will tell you that."

LOOKING FOR AN OUT
"There was a lot of talk about that Leonard fight," Britton went on. "There was some betting that Leonard would win and when he fouled me and lost there was a lot of gossip that we had fixed it and that we had cleaned up. I don't know anything about that betting. I know that I didn't have enough money on hand to bet a dime and that Dan Morgan (his manager) was broke. I never have been able to believe that Leonard wanted an out because I know he tried to knock me out too many times in the early part of the fight."

"I was tired late in the fight and he hit me in the stomach with a punch that nearly ruined me. I was a mile ahead on points and knew that I couldn't blow the decision if I was able to finish on my feet, so I went to my knees for a count. Leonard walked around the referee and outted me a light punch on the head and he was declared the loser on a foul."

"I guess that at that late time in the fight he knew that he couldn't win and that he preferred to lose on a foul. But I'll say this for him, he wasn't dirty about it. He saw to it that he hit me where there was no chance to hurt me."

HE CARRIED SOME
"I've carried young fighters," Britton said. "And I don't think here is anything wrong in saving a kid from punishment when there is no betting that your opponent is going the distance."

"And I'll tell you that it is no cinch to carry a fighter. Leonard could do it. So could Mike Gibbons and even if it sounds like boasting, I could do it, too. But it takes a clever man to do it. You have to make your opponent do everything just as you want him to do it or it would look like a hippodrome. It isn't very boxer who can do that."

"I never have thought that there was anything wrong in carrying a young fellow. Our sport is supposed to be boxing and not murder and I never have felt like abusing a young fellow who was just starting out in the business. I remembered too well about my young days. When you get a fellow in there of your own age, size and experience, it's all right to level at him because you can't be too sure that a man who is your match isn't going to level you first."

PLAY STATE LEAGUE BALL TOMORROW

Saints Should Have Great 1930 Track Team

PAUL REBOIN BOTH ELIGIBLE FOR NEXT YEAR

Santa Ana high school should have the greatest track and field team in its history next year. Barring unforeseen accidents, the squad should be a red hot contender for the Southern California and California state championships.

Norman Paul and Alvin Reboin, holder of four school records, both have another season of eligibility and with the improvement that is inevitable over the period of one year they should be capable of making between them no less than 20 points in any prep meet, no matter how large, they may enter.

With less than a month's training, Paul ran the 220 yard low hurdles in 24.2 seconds this spring. His possibilities seem unlimited in this race because he has speed, strength, competitive spirit and is rapidly gaining experience. He won the low timbers in the All-Southern and is hoped to be first also in the state classic May 11.

May Shatter Records
Paul also was consistent at 22 feet in the broad jump and ought to increase his distance by a foot with one more year behind him. He is likely to shatter the Southern California record in this event in 1930. He improved from 20 feet, 6 inches to 22 feet, 5 inches during the course of the 1929 campaign.

Coach "Tex" Oliver also believes Paul is a potential first place man in the shot put. The brilliant junior is not built for the weight events but he is a great stylist in the shot showing ring and gets the maximum distance with a minimum of effort. He won the Coast League meet at better than 47 feet and Oliver says he will be heaving the 12-pound iron ball better than 50 feet by the end of the 1930 schedule.

Reboin, who failed to win in the All-Southern only because he hit a hurdle and suffered a nasty spill on the ninth barrier, should be the class of all high hurdlers again. He ran 15.2 seconds on one occasion this year, and was fairly consistent at 15.2-5. Oliver is confident the boy will be close to even time next year.

Reboin also should do as well in 1930 as he did this term in the low sticks but his greatest improvement is expected in the pole vault in which, with almost no training, he did 12 feet in two big meets. Reboin will approach 13 feet in the 1930 All-Southern, Coach Oliver believes.

Other Fine Prospects
The Saints will have more than a two-man track team however. They had several promising young athletes worth more than passing notice on the squad this season who will be back next spring and they will get two or three fine prospects coming up from the city's junior high schools.

Jim Daneri, a sophomore, who ran the 440 in 53 seconds; broad-jumped around 21 feet, and threw the discus 110 feet, should score many a point for his school. Doyle Gilbert is expected to be broad-jumping close to 22 feet and Lawrence Stiles ought to vault 12 feet. Remarkable improvement is expected from Paul Jacques, who cleared 8 feet, 9 inches in the high jump in the league meet. He has two more years ahead of him and may go as high as 6 feet next season.

Captain Tommy Cone, Tom Donahue, Carl Schoenberg and "Red" Cooke are the only members of this year's squad that graduate.

School Adds Hoop Trophy To Cup Case

Emblematic of the Class B basketball championship of the Coast Preparatory League, a beautiful silver loving cup is now in the trophy case at Santa Ana high school.

Not content with the league bunting, the Saints, coached by Bill Cook, went on and captured the Southern California laurels by trouncing Fullerton, Orange league champions and conqueror of Woodrow Wilson, Bay League, winner. The local team, consisting of Captain Jimmy Hall, Russell Sullivan, Asa Herren, Elwood Lindley, Bill Erbe and Joe McChesney, was the best in years at the local school.

Each winning school has its name engraved on plates on the base of the cup. Pasadena won it last year; San Diego kept it for 1926-27; Long Beach had it in 1925-26; and Whittier held it for two years, in 1924-25 and 1923-24.

Of course the umpire is usually the target for the shafts of ridicule that are passed out by the fans. In the 22 years I spent as a big league umpire I have had a lot of people say things about me, most of them not of a very complimentary nature. Like the umpire, the player is also subjected to a lot of wise cracks.

To my way of thinking, the funniest remark I ever heard emanating from the stands poked some good-natured fun at Frank Isbell, then a member of the Chicago White Sox. Chicago was playing in Washington.

Reboin, who failed to win in the All-Southern only because he hit a hurdle and suffered a nasty spill on the ninth barrier, should be the class of all high hurdlers again. He ran 15.2 seconds on one occasion this year, and was fairly consistent at 15.2-5. Oliver is confident the boy will be close to even time next year.

Reboin also should do as well in 1930 as he did this term in the low sticks but his greatest improvement is expected in the pole vault in which, with almost no training, he did 12 feet in two big meets. Reboin will approach 13 feet in the 1930 All-Southern, Coach Oliver believes.

CONSISTENCY GIVES HI GILL, S. A. BOXER, CHANCE TO BEAT BLAKE IN MILL HERE TONIGHT

Hiram, the sturdy student who has to cram for his honors, and Billy, the brilliant city scholar who is as bright as a new dollar, hold a boxing bee at Henry Trigonometry Foust's rural schoolhouse here tonight. The odds will be on the city slicker, as typified by Billy Blake, to outsmart the country boy, as represented by Hi Gill, but the story of the hare and the tortoise is such an old one that the Orange County Athletic club clientele for the most part is withholding judgment.

If Blake were more consistent, or Gill less consistent there wouldn't be much excuse for the match because when Blake is at his best Gill doesn't belong in the same ring with him.

But Blake, conqueror of near champions and victim of pork-and-beans, is a question mark. He has been beating the best of them in the last month. He administered sound thrashings to "Rubber" Johnson, Sammy Jackson and Joe Ardenago. Let his record be dotted with inconsistency. He has lost to a number of men he should have defeated.

Gill is an honest, conscientious plowhorse. He can be figured to give his best, especially for this one in which his very future here is at stake. He will be trying hard tonight and if Blake isn't up to his Johnson-Ardenago form—Blake will win!

Gill and Blake are scheduled to go 10 rounds to a decision. When they met here six weeks ago Blake won the first four rounds but nearly lost the decision when Gill rallied in the last two. Over a long route, the plowhorse figures to have a better chance. The clever ones often "blow" when the going gets tough.

Louis Ramos and Ascencio Hernandez will meet in the semi-final. Ramos is a preliminary boy at the Olympic. Hernandez has fought so competently here before that he is entitled to some of the bigger dough. They appear evenly matched.

Johnny Sova and Young Franklin, heavyweights, lead the three preliminaries. Franklin is a college boy who recently polished off Wild Bill (Hal) Cox, one-time Delhi favorite.

GAVUZZO SETS NEW 40-MILE RUN MARK

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 30.—Peter Gavuzzo of Italy, leading C. Pyle's cross country race, yesterday broke the world's amateur record for 40 miles, held by Rhodes of England. With a warm sun beating down on his back, Gavuzzo paced the Conway-Springfield lap in 4:51:10, beating Rhodes' time by nine minutes.

The runners today are on a 41 mile jog to Miller, Mo. Gavuzzo was in the lead early in the race. A light rain was falling, with prospects of precipitation all day. The runners go to Joplin Wednesday.

Chocolate Stops Ryan In Round

NEW YORK, April 30.—Kid Chocolate, Cuban Negro featherweight, needed but 1 minute and 55 seconds to end his bout with Tommy Ryan, McKeesport, Pa., at the Broadway arena here last night. Chocolate started the fight with his customary zip, pummeling Ryan with lefts and rights. Then the kid dropped Ryan for a count of eight with a long left hook. As soon as Ryan arose he faced a terrific charge from the Negro who rushed in, landed a left to the jaw, crossed his right and the bout was over.

Dempsey Anxious To Sign Baby Sal

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—Jack Dempsey, now interested in the promotion end of the fight business, wants the first option on the series of Baby Sal Sorio if the little Mexican succeeds in lifting the junior lightweight title from Tod Morgan at Wrigley field May 20.

Dempsey made known his desire in a wire received last night by Grafton Leabo, manager of Sorio.

STARS TO PLAY OLIVE IN BOWL HERE TONIGHT

The champions of Southern California will make their second at-home appearance of the 1929 night baseball season this evening. Captain Horace Snow and Business Director John Wilcox pitting their Santa Ana Stars against Olive in the Bowl at 8 o'clock.

Olive is expected to be one of the most dangerous competitors for the Orange County league flag this summer and the joust should afford a good means of comparison between the two clubs.

Santa Ana looked like it had another great team in the making last week when the Stars clubbed their way to a 7 to 3 victory over Whittier. The locals got good pitching, hit the ball solidly and fielded sensationally.

Glenn Stockbridge, who pitched the home guard to the championship last season, is expected to start tonight with "Eeny" Wilcox behind the bat. Cole, Foote, Scott and Hill will compose the infield and Nelson, Schuchardt and either Merrill or Preble will be in the outfield.

Heman, one of the few night baseball pitchers who throws an in-curve, will work for the visitors. Heman gave the Santa Anans plenty of trouble last year.

Stanford To Get Own Golf Course

PALO ALTO, April 20.—The first university golf course in the United States is soon to be built at Stanford university here, according to an announcement today.

Alfred R. Masters, general manager, said he had telegraphed Billy Bell, golf architect and builder of the Bel-Air course in Los Angeles, to begin construction immediately.

Wykoff Will Run Against Trojan Star

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—Frank Wykoff, the Glendale schoolboy flyer, and Charley Borah, captain of the University of Southern California, will clash at the Southern Pacific Amateur Athletic union championships at the Los Angeles Coliseum next Saturday.

The two internationally known sprinters, it was announced last night, are sure to appear in the 100 yard dash and Wykoff may decide to engage Borah in the 220 yard dash.

YANK PITCHING STAFF WORRIES BOSS HUGGINS

NEW YORK, April 30.—Give Miller Huggins a half dozen Walte Hoyts and the worries of the diminutive manager of the New York Yankees will be at an end.

Until a few Yankee pitchers star to Hoytland tendencies, however, Huggins may find a great many high hurdles blocking the road to his fourth straight American league pennant.

The league season of 1929 is two weeks old today and the champion Yankees, with a record of five victories and four defeats, are lodged in third place.

To make matters worse, the Yankees are having more trouble with their share of trouble with the Philadelphia Athletics—the one team Babe Ruth and Co. was "sure" of winning from. In five games played with Cornelius MacGilluddy's youngsters the Yankees.

ORANGE COUNTY TEAM RETURNS TO FAIR PARK

Organized baseball returns to Orange county tomorrow afternoon when Jess Orndorff's Countians begin a home stand of two weeks during which they hope to climb up into the respectable society of the California State League.

Louis Guisto's Bakersfield Oilers, a club subsidized by the Orland franchise of the Pacific Coast League, makes their first appearance of the season at the aPr grounds for this six-game series.

Contests will be played daily, beginning Wednesday at 2:45, with a double-header scheduled for Sunday.

This and next week, when San Bernardino comes to the Fair grounds, will just about decide the fate of organized ball here. Attendance was disappointing when the Countians played San Diego and if box receipts don't pick up something will have to be done because all the other localities in the circuit are making money on their investment, and they can't afford to support a losing venture in the fourth entry.

State league representatives were in the city again today interviewing leading citizens and boosters and trying to obtain a site in Santa Ana for a baseball park where they would rather play their games.

Zorilla Favored To Defeat Hess

HARMON PLANS SLUG TOURNEY TO FIND CHAMP

BY BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, April 30.—Paddy Harmon is planning to go to the "bushes" after the next heavyweight champion.

Believing that a liberal dose of new talent will enliven heavyweight interest, the Chicago stadium promoter has hit on a novel plan for getting "some guys that can hit and be taught to box."

"I'm planning to run a tournament, the only requirement of which will be that the entry weigh more than 175 pounds," Harmon said. "The more entries the better and I believe that an affair of this type will bring out at least half a dozen heavyweight contenders."

The promoter plans to offer a $20,000 first place prize, with other awards ranging down to $50. "It's true we wouldn't get any finished boxers, but we'd get some boys that could sock and its generally the sucker who gets some place. I think there are scores of fellows out in the bushes who would like to get into the fight game but don't know how to go about it. If they came into a tournament of this type they wouldn't have very much trouble getting plenty of backing if they put away a few fellows with haymakers."

"Will the tournament pay? There's no criterion to go by and anyway the idea is to develop some good fighters but I'm willing to bet we'd pack 'em in at popular prices. You can't tell me that a bunch of huskies fighting for a $20,000 prize wouldn't develop some real battling."

"The tournament, of course, would be mostly a slam bang affair, with hitting the feature. But a good hitter can be taught to box well enough to get by and anyhow it wasn't boxing ability which made Firpo an Argentine millionaire. It was the old sock."

kees have won two, while the A's have pounded Yankee pitchers for a total of 43 hits and 25 runs.

The Yanks can boast a record of two victories in three games with the Boston Red Sox—if losing a game to the Bostonians is anything to boast about. They also hold one victory over Washington in the only game played between the teams so far.

And the reason for the deepening furrows on the usually passive brow of Huggins is that he has but one Hoyt on his staff of first string hurlers.

The value of Hoyt can easily be estimated when one considers that he has won three of New York's five victories, and is the only pitcher to last nine innings for the Yanks. Hoyt has pitched three full games and allowed a total of 17 hits—an average of less than six blows a game.

Lewis and Stecher each have held the world's championship now are striving to regain the title from Gus Sonnenberg, the college boy who took his wrestling seriously.

HUGGINS KNOWS
Miller Huggins says the toughest problem facing a manager of a ball club is his pitching staff and the toughest detail is deciding when to change and when not to change pitchers in a game.

New two years ago—in the mode today

The Lincoln's perennial beauty is untouched by passing fads and fancies. The Lincoln that first saw service two years ago is still one of the smartest cars on the boulevard. Its beauty is independent of time and place. . . . This two-year-old car is admired today for the fine thing it is—a Lincoln.

Lincolns that have stood the test of service—splendid cars with only a few thousand miles of use—are purchasable at prices that in no way indicate their true values. These cars are as smart—as much in the current mode—as new cars. They are as powerful, as quiet, and as thoroughly capable as a car can be made. They will provide a kind of satisfaction in motoring difficult to experience outside Lincoln ownership.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

YOUR LIVER KIDNEYS Stomach and Intestines

OUR BUSINESS is to create health, AND OUR EXPERIENCE IS that after we cleanse and repair the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Intestines, the rest of the body corrects itself AUTOMATICALLY.

THE INTESTINES

Of all the eliminative organs the Intestines hold the "KEY" to the situation, and are most often the "STUMBLING BLOCK" to both Doctor and Patient. And this fact is responsible for the discovery of our method for handling INTESTINAL ILLMENTS.

OUR CHALLENGE

We find that while the Intestines are full of congestion and inflammation the Gall duct, Gall bladder, Liver and Stomach, HAVE GREAT DIFFICULTY IN EMPTYING THEMSELVES, and thus they become congested and inflamed. Therefore we challenge the possibility of creating and maintaining health in the Gall duct, Gall bladder, Stomach, Blood stream, Kidneys, Heart, Eyes, Ears, Throat, Glands and Skin, WITHOUT FIRST making the necessary Intestinal corrections.

High, Medium, Low and Reverse

The Intestines is the "Gear shift" to the human body. Three bowel movements a day PUTS YOUR HEALTH in "high," two puts it in "medium" and one puts it in "low," while LAXATIVES throws it into "REVERSE" and the stronger the laxative the faster you will travel BACKWARD, till you go over the EMBANKMENT.

TWO ARRESTED. WINE, WHISKEY TAKEN IN RAIDS

Two raids, conducted by deputies from the office of Sheriff Sam Jernigan, Saturday, netted two prisoners, a quantity of whiskey and a barrel of wine, officers reported.

About two gallons of whiskey were taken by Deputies Steward and Roberts and Constable Ryan in the rooms of Ora S. Ammons, 41-year-old business man, of Sunset Beach, when the officers searched Ammons' quarters Saturday afternoon, Chief Criminal Deputy Howard said this morning. Ammons, who was booked at the jail on a charge of possession, was fined $500 by Justice Kenneth Morrison this morning and was committed to jail on failure to pay.

The second raid was made by Deputies Jernigan, Roberts and Steward and Constable Ryan Saturday night. Ed W. Siler, 34, oil worker, was taken in custody by the officers, who charged him with possession of intoxicating liquor. Deputy Howard stated this morning that the arresting officers found a barrel of wine and about two gallons of whiskey on the premises occupied by Siler, near Acentia.

DAVIS DEFEREE IN FORECLOSURE SUIT

James L. Davis, Santa Ana attorney, had been appointed today as referee in the case of E. M. Wheatland versus the Balboa Paddocks club, with power to hear and determine the law as well as the facts in the matter granted by Superior Judge James L. Allen, presiding judge.

Wheatland brought suit to foreclose a mechanic's lien, asking judgment for $15,515.43, including attorney's fees.

In its answer the defendant alleged that Wheatland had failed to carry out the agreement for construction of a boathouse and had allowed liens to encumber the der of the Disable American Vessel against him for $37,416.80.

SURGERY SAVES FEATURES OF CRASH VICTIM

Evidence of an unusually fine piece of surgery and medical attention left the Orange County hospital recently in the person of Leonard Flores, 52-year-old resident of Richfield.

Flores, who was badly hurt when his car was struck by a train near Richfield, on March 23, had his right ear cut off and a piece of the right side of his face scooped out, in addition to receiving six broken ribs and a dislocated clavicle.

Hospital attaches thought at first that the patient would be terribly disfigured for life as a result of the head injuries but the careful surgery of Dr. Russell Johnson and attention received while in the hospital resulted in repairs that fixed him up almost good as new.

One of the hospital attaches, whose duty it was to check Flores out of the hospital, stated today, in speaking of the case, that the patient's appearance was so natural that she failed to recognize him.

Dates Of Santa Ana Model Plane Contests Announced

MAY 18 AND 25 SELECTED FOR ELIMINATIONS

From now on all you model plane builders will have to be on your toes more than ever, for the indoor and outdoor contests of the Junior Aviation club, sponsored by the 20-30 club and The Register, are just around the corner. If you haven't joined the club there is still time to build your model planes and enter the contest.

Every boy in Santa Ana will want to be in on the competition, for there are two trips to Detroit to be won. The Register is going to send the winner of each contest to the national contests to be held June 20 to June 22, inclusive, in Detroit. And today everyone stands an even chance of winning one of those trips.

Back in Detroit the Santa Ana winners will have a chance to compete for free trips to Europe, silver cups and 300 other prizes in cash, medals and scholarships.

The 20-30 club is going to be in charge of the two contests here. The indoor competition will be held on May 18, the outdoor races on May 25. That gives you just a little less than three weeks to get your entries into perfect shape for the first event at 9 a. m., May 18.

Next Saturday, at the meeting in the Walker theater, every boy who plans to enter either the indoor or outdoor contest must register his planes. No plane can be registered for competition after Saturday.

Three planes can be entered in each contest. Each boy is entitled to three flights altogether. He may use the same plane in all three tries or he may use all three planes, one for each attempt.

In the meantime don't forget that Abram Abgarian, 15, of Detroit, won the world's indoor championship last June because he was prepared. When he entered the semi-finals in Detroit his ship was wrecked, through no fault of his own. But Abram was prepared. He had a built-up fuselage—the kind described in The Register—and he sat up all night to get it ready for the finals. He won the world's championship. He was prepared.

Henry's Cycle shop, 427 West Fourth street, is agent for the plane building kits in Santa Ana and has in stock all materials needed with which to construct model planes described in The Register. With the indoor and outdoor contests in Santa Ana coming off May 18 and May 25, model builders will find these kits of great help to them in competing for prize trips to Detroit.

A new idea for handling midair motor trouble is soon to be tested at Alameda airport, with a lever making it possible to separate the engine and gasoline tanks, and let the stabilized fuselage glide to earth with its passengers. PROGRAM FOR S. A. HIGH RANKS SCHOOL SHOW ABOVE AVERAGE IS ANNOUNCED IN COMPOSITION

With the fuss and flurry of the 1929 senior class play, "Lilies of the Field," over with, talented students in the Santa Ana high school now are devoting their time and energy to putting over the first all high school talent show ever presented in Santa Ana and which will be offered at the Yost Spurgeon theater on May 9.

According to Ted Newcomb, president of the Poly Movie club, which is sponsoring the entertainment, seven acts of vaudeville featuring the finest talent in the school, are being rehearsed and the show also will include a full length motion picture program, with the high school film, "College Daze," being featured.

A tentative program included a comedy and musical vaudeville skit, with Harper Goff and Garth Benjamin; a one-act play, presented by the high school drama class, under the direction of Ernest Crozier Phillips; selection of popular musical numbers, by Duncan Harnois, popular high school pianist; Marion Nau, well known violinist; Everard Stoval, one of Santa Ana's finest pianists; a musical act, featuring Agnes McKinstry and Betty Maloney, and a group of popular songs, by Harriet Morris.

B. P. W. HEARS DISCUSSION ON WORLD'S POETS

A more comprehensive understanding of modern poetry and the place its writers occupy in the literary world undoubtedly will be brought to bear on future reading of Santa Ana Business and Professional Women as a result of the interesting talk given yesterday at their meeting, in St. Ann's Inn, by Mrs. Robert Northcross, of the English department of Santa Ana high school and junior college.

The day's program had been provided by officers of the club and Mrs. Northcross came as a courtesy to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Marshall Northcross, vice president of the organization. Her talk was preceded by a brief business meeting, in which the president, Mrs. John A. Tessmann called attention to the need of donations from the members to the "White elephant" booth which the club will conduct at the Boy Scout jamboree. These may be left with Miss Mabel Larriek at Scout headquarters.

Glee Club on Program
Contributing to the enjoyment of the clubwomen were choruses sung by the Senior Boys' Glee club, of Julia Lathrop junior high school, with Miss Edith Cornell as director and Miss Maxine Zolman accompanist. The club, numbering 28 boys, sang "A Little Close Harmony," "Lassie O' Mine" and "Nut-Brown Maiden," and was accorded enthusiastic applause by the audience.

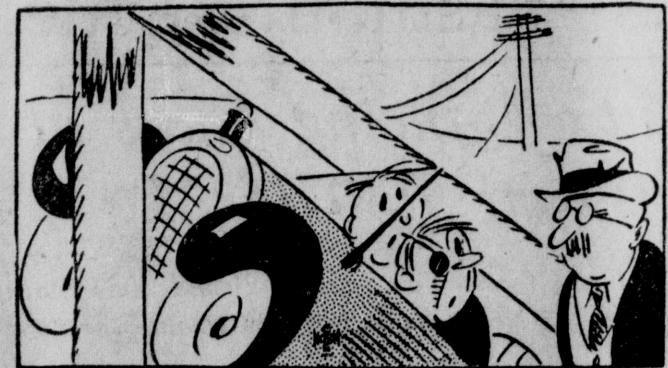

Introducing her subject, Mrs. Northcross went back to the nineteenth century poets for contrast to those of the present day, citing the wide popularity enjoyed by Oscar Wilde and his followers of an artificial age when they cared more for "the manner of saying a thing than for the thing itself," an evidence, she declared, of the decadence of that era.

Then came Henley and the men of his school, fostering a new movement in which the character of the poetic output changed radically, as an introduction to the present age in which poetry transcribes the things received through the senses. The Celtic revival, offering such master craftsmen as J. M. Synge, Houseman, George Russell and men of like note and ability was described with some detail and in England, Hardy's influence according to the speaker, was scarcely to be exaggerated.

Remarkable Influence
In America, two great writers had a remarkable influence on later generations, Edgar Allan Poe and Walt Whitman, although the speaker told of the undeniable beauty of fugitive lines from some of the once-accepted masters of verse, Longfellow, Bryant, Whittier and others of that didactic school. But it was not until 1912 and the first publication of "Poetry," a Magazine of Verse, by Harriet Monroe, of Chicago, that the present day era of poetry and poets came to its first fine flowering, according to the speaker, who outlined Miss Monroe's courage and convictions, and spoke incidentally of the impetus given the movement towards so-called free verse, by the Boston Transcript's anthology of the new form.

TRUCKS BEING EQUIPPED WITH WEIGHT PLATES

In order to avoid duplication of effort in ascertaining the weights of trucks and checking up on the actual weight as compared to the weight given in the registration certificate, state traffic officers now are engaged in placing official plates on trucks whose weight has been determined.

The plates, which were received recently by the Santa Ana office of the state traffic organization from the department of motor vehicles, in Sacramento, are classified in various divisions to compare with the fees charged for various weights.

Officers are authorized to issue the plates for trucks whose weight checks with that shown in the registration certificates, but where they find a truck whose actual weight is more than that shown on the certificate, the owner is forced to apply to the nearest district office for new registration certificate. Captain Meehan stated this morning in commenting on the plan.

The largest percentage of offenders in weight discrepancy, Meehan said, is the lighter trucks, many of whose owners try to get by without paying the additional fee for weights above 3000 pounds. The plates now being issued probably will remain in force until the law is changed, Meehan asserted.

OFF WITH OLD AND ON WITH NEW FOR TOMORROW BRINGS ANOTHER 'STRAW HAT DAY'

"Off with the old and on with the new," sang the poet.

And man, looking about him with a puzzled air, wondering just what the poet means, chanced to glance at the calendar. There, staring him in the face, with the large numerals 30, "April 30!" he shouted.

"Why tomorrow is the first of May—of course he means straw hats!"

Straightaway the comfortable old felt hat, whose drooping brim shades his eyes so well from the sun's bright days and whose dented crown sits so comfortably on his head defying every little vagrant breeze that blows, is considered ready for the nearest trash barrel, and he must needs wend his way to the nearest haberdashery to select a brand-new straw in readiness for the morrow.

Stiff of brim and relentlessly stiff of crown, rough to the hand lifting it in salute to passing femininity; cold on cool days and hot on warm, it will rest triumphantly on the head waiting to receive it, uncompromisingly rigid, unbelievably uncomfortable, and undeniably lacking in grace. But man will be satisfied.

He will have obeyed fashion's dictate. Tomorrow is Straw Hat day and he is recognizing the fact. Did he appear in a straw hat today, men would smile. "Ha! Wearing your straw hat! Rushing the season aren't you?" Did he appear tomorrow wearing his comfortable old felt, not-

Irvine Park Chosen For Celebration Of Birthdays

Irvine park is a lovely spot these days with its sycamores and oaks freshly green and its wild flowers blooming in profusion. It was appropriate that such a setting should be chosen for the celebration of three birthday anniversaries, those of C. D. Henderson of this city, Mrs. Peoria Packwood of Huntington Park, and George Kist of Los Angeles. The party honoring the three, was planned by Mrs. Henderson who was assisted in various hostess duties by Mrs. Byron Burrows, who had baked three cakes for the honored guests. Those present for the affair included Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Delapp and Frank Barton of Claremont, Mr. and Mrs. Brownlow Gibson and Mrs. Peoria Packwood of Huntington Park, George Kist, Miss Mabel Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Burrows, Gordon Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Botendahl, Eugene Botendahl, and Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Botendahl of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Ahrens of McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burrows, Jack Burrows, Mrs. William Mulligan, Billie Mulligan, and Mr. and Mrs. Henderson of this city.

Miss Mittel Entertains In Honor of Sister

Miss Alice Mae Mittel presided over a pretty bridge party held recently in honor of her sister, Mrs. R. C. Edwards, whose birthday anniversary it was. The delightful affair took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, 2139 Greenleaf street. Mrs. Olan Turner held high score at bridge while Mr. Turner was low, each receiving attractive gifts. At the supper hour, guests were seated at one long table where a color scheme of pink and white was very effective. The large white cake was topped by lighted pink candles while tall pink tapers burned at either end of the table. Those enjoying the party with Miss Mittel were Mr. and Mrs. George Lackaye, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Olan Turner, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwards.

YELLOW POPULAR

There's a yellow streak in every smart little girl's get-up this summer. For the navy blue felt trotter betst from Helene Corbett outlines the face with an original banding of yellow felt that folds over itself in front and knots a neat bow on one ear. With it, matching yellow pearl beads take the place of the ubiquitous white ones, and prove vastly becoming to the sunburned maid.

Musical Organizations To Compete Here Friday

All musical organizations in the high schools of Orange county will demonstrate their accomplishments Friday afternoon at the Santa Ana high school auditorium. The Santa Ana teachers sponsoring the local convention are Miss Myrtle Martin, supervisor of music in the high school and junior college; Samuel J. Mustel, supervisor of instrumental music in the city schools; and Miss Helen MacCartney and Miss Mary Batten, glee club instructors. In past years, the conventions have been held in Fullerton, Huntington Beach and Brea-Olinda.

Advertising Staff of Santa Ana Register Is Entertained

Gay Chinese lanterns and a cheery blaze in the out-of-doors fireplace lighted the patio of the J. Frank Burke home on Panorama Heights last night for the dinner that was served there with members of the advertising department of The Santa Ana Register and their wives as guests at the affair. The guests were seated at one long table that was centered with a bouquet of mixed spring flowers. Candles and place cards carried out the varied floral tints. Preceding the bridge games that occupied most of the evening hours, two merry games were enjoyed by the group. The first was an advertising slogan contest that was won by Mrs. W. B. Crawford, and the second, a guessing contest, was won by E. C. Teel with Mrs. Crawford second.

When bridge scores were added, following several jolly games, it was found that F. R. Alvord and Mrs. W. Lee Mills were high and they were presented with prizes. Musical Tea Last In Series of Social Affairs

The last of the series of social events sponsored this spring by the Anaheim Ebell club and the first affair to be given in the lovely new home of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Johnson, south Los Angeles street, Anaheim, was the musical tea given yesterday afternoon. Members of the Ebell club and the house guests of members were the only guests, 140 women being present. Mrs. Henry Adams, president of the club, and the hostess, Mrs. H. A. Johnson, received. Mrs. Johnson chose a color scheme of pastel tints, using snapdragons and flaring tulips in these colors in arranging out her decorations. Tea was served in the dining room that was softly lighted with candles in tones of orchid, pink and yellow, and the patio. From the patio there is a delightful view of the deep blue swimming pool surrounded by hundreds of blossoming spring flowers, the rock gardens and the bird bath where wild songsters performed through the afternoon hours for their interested audience. Musical numbers were presented by a trio, Dorothy Chess of Los Angeles, violin, Marion Fischeo, of Los Angeles, cello, and Florence Austin Newkirk, of Anaheim, piano. The group was closely associated in musical work in the University of California at Los Angeles for several years. Juanita Ross gave a group of songs with Mrs. Florence Idler Phillips, of Los Angeles, accompanying. The selections chosen by Mrs. Ross revealed to her listeners the lovely tonal qualities of her voice. Mrs. Phillips presented a musical reading, "California in the Spring." The reading is her own composition and was especially appropriate for the occasion. A group of three songs by Mrs. Ross were also the compositions of Mrs. Phillips. The songs interpreted the three phases of a California day. Mrs. Harry Horn and Mrs. Robert Easton were chairmen of the committees in charge of general arrangements. Hostesses were Mrs. C. E. Harbison, Mrs. E. E. Smith and Mrs. H. D. Newkirk. They were assisted in pouring by Mrs. J. W. Hester, Mrs. C. A. Pearson, Miss E. Kate Rea, Mrs. Wilbert Bonney, Mrs. C. Mann, Mrs. E. C. Rundstrom, Miss Frances Backs, Mrs. H. H. Benjamin, Mrs. Jobst, and Mrs. Porlier.

When scores were added at the end of the evening, appropriate prizes were awarded the holders of high scores. Uroceeds from the affair will be added to the beneficiary fund of the club.

To Clean Aluminum? Tough Job!

I have been asked to tell how to clean an aluminum griddle. The reader says:

"I found a heavy old aluminum hot cake griddle, one of those which last forever, but it has evidently been used a life-time to fry on without even being cleaned, and the grease and black soot burned in that steel wool and cleaning soap will make no impression on it. The dish itself is not damaged. Can I soak it in lye water or how can I clean it?"

I am afraid that you will have to bear your cross in silence, for any chemical strong enough to clean the griddle would eat into the aluminum and the usefulness of the dish would be finished.

A very strong solution of baking soda—3 tablespoonsful to each cup of water—might help. Immerse the griddle in the solution for 15 minutes, then wash in hot soap suds.

As long as you know it is actually clean, why worry about the griddle being black? Well-seasoned griddles make nice brown cakes when the smug shining ones produce cakes that look as though they had perished in an oven.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Fried Hominy

3 cups hominy
1/2 cup sweet milk
1 egg, well beaten
Salt and pepper
3 or 4 slices of bacon

Hominy is always improved by steaming for several hours, the longer the better. Beat the egg well, mix with the milk and pour over the hominy. Season to taste. Dice the bacon and fry crisp, pour the hominy mixture into the hot fat and fry until crispy brown.

Serve plain if used as a vegetable, or with butter and syrup when it appears at breakfast. You will find it advisable to cook a double portion when hominy is served for dinner, the unused part provides a marvelous breakfast.

No doubt you have eaten beets in restaurants and wondered how the delicious red sauce was made; here is the recipe.

Harvard Beets
12 small beets
1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper to taste

Cook the beets, immerse in cold water and slip off the skins. Cut them in thin slices and marinate for half an hour in the sauce. Bring the sugar and vinegar to a boil, moisten the cornstarch in

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

"The Homeliest Woman in the World (such a distinction surely deserves capitals) has tossed her rare title to the winds, touched by spring and the desire to win at least an approving glance from The One Man.

This is the story which tumbles forth from colorful backstage land of Ringling Brothers.

The Homeliest Woman is Mrs. Mary Bevans of England, whose world's homeliest face has brought fame and fortune to herself and children for many a year.

The One Man is Alfred, the leopard caretaker—or is it the giraffe?

Anyway, story has it, when The Homeliest Woman saw Alfred, all pride in her title fled. She is supposed to have appealed to a circus colleague for help in winning some sort of favor from Alfred.

And someone or other straightway took her to a beauty parlor, had her given a bob, shampoo with a little fleck of dye in the rinse water, a marcel, a facial, a manicure, guided her in buying a spring wardrobe to "suit her type," and lo, Alfred has at last noted her existence, and hope springs in The Homeliest Woman's heart.

And the circus, they say, is sending out an S. O. S. for a new World's Homeliest Woman, for Mrs. Bevans will no longer fill the bill.

PRESS AGENTS, EH?

Now I—and perhaps you—may be unduly suspicious, but I am sure we all agree that this is just one of those "swell" press agent's yarns. It smacks of the yarns continuously sent out about one set of Siamese twins or another—something to the effect that one of them wants to elope but doesn't know how to keep it a secret since her sister must tag along when the license is procured—for that matter, tag along to the wedding itself, and how the dickens will she be "ditched" for the honeymoon?

It smacks of tales of the clown who played the fool while his heart is breaking.

Somehow, what so obvious for a heart-throb yarn as that the World's Homeliest Woman should fall in love when all the world is white with May, and for the sake of love toss away a title of distinction for which not everyone might hanker?

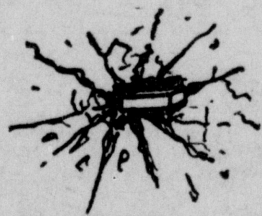

But, if true or false, it shows a true knowledge of female psychology which is interesting. Whether Mrs. Mary Bevans did or did not fall in love with Alfred, the leopard or giraffe caretaker, whether for love of him she did or did not toss away her distinction and big money making asset as so much rubbish, the fact remains that there isn't a doubt in the world that she and any other woman would do that very thing if she wanted love of a particular man.

A DUBIOUS RESULT
The only slightly non-authentic phase of the story concerns the effect of the marcel and new clothes upon Alfred. This is a story-book ending. In real life, it is very doubtful whether all these transformations would make any real difference.

No, in real life, Mrs. Mary would toss away all that she had in life for the sake of the gleaming bauble of love, only to learn that she had neither that nor the things she had tossed away for it.

If Alfred could not love her in her ugliness, it is just as sure that he would not love her in her new state, and especially sure if he ever dreamed that she had deliberately "given up all" for him. He would then become paralyzed with fright, and she would have absolutely no hope at all.

But, whether true or false, good luck, Mrs. Bevans. May you never

WEST END

"The Singapore Mutiny," FBO's gripping drama of the jealousies, feuds and flights of a half-dozen men over one fascinating woman, opened today at the West End theater.

All the action of the picture takes place at sea, aboard a "tramp" freighter bound from San Francisco to Singapore, on which the adventures, portrayed by beautiful Estelle Taylor, is one of but four passengers.

In addition to directing the drama Ralph Ince enacts the leading role—that of a giant bully of the stokehole whose brutal nature is tamed and transformed by psychological developments as the story unfolds until he rises to heroic stature. In the strong supporting cast are included James Mason, Martha Mattox, Gardner James, Frank Newberg, Will Irving, Harry Allen, Robert Galliard and Carl Axelle.

WEST COAST-WALKER

When "Hearts in Dixie," the William Fox special production is seen and heard on the screen of the Walker theater beginning today, it is almost certain that the singing of the spirituals and folk songs will linger in the memories mourn the rash thing you did when springtime knocked too persistently at your heart.

But you will mourn, I have no doubt. You will find yourself now just a plain homely woman, helped, after all, very little by the beauty parlor's best, and you will mourn for the loss of anything that lifted you from the common herd—even if that anything was nothing more than an insult like "The World's Homeliest Woman."

of all who hear them for a long time.

Particularly will this be true of "Lonesome Road," the strains of which bring the story to a close when "Nappus," played by Clarence Muse, an old negro, takes his son "Chincapin" to the levee to board the "Nelly Bly" for his journey north and for an education.

It is patent that the old man will never see his boy again and as the boat pulls up stream the roustabouts croon the song.

The history of "Lonesome Road" is somewhat vague. Evelyn Cary Williams of Lynchburg, Va., who has made extensive researches on the subject of folk songs was unable to trace its origin other than to find it was taken down from the singing of Charles Galloway, a black man, uneducated, and a worker on the roads in Virginia.

"Hearts in Dixie" abounds in spirituals rendered by a mixed chorus of 60 voices and faithfully reproduced on the screen through the medium of Fox Movietone.

The cast numbers in its personnel such well known players as Clarence Muse, Bernice Pilot, Eugene Jackson, Stopin Fetchit, Clifford Ingram and Mildred Washington.

YOST BROADWAY

Audiences at the Broadway theater are finding decided entertainment and much human interest in the First National picture, "The Barker," which opened there Sunday for a four-days' run.

Milton Sills is the star and does a neat job in the title role, exhibiting fine restraint and a thorough understanding of the character.

Dorothy Mackall, co-starred as Lou, the carnival girl, is demurely attractive and plays with fine discernment. She has, as the boy she loves, the Barker's son, that talented young artist, Douglas Fairbanks Jr. Betty Compson as the hula dancer and sweetheart of the Barker, is a thing of beauty and flame.

The entire production is marked by George Fitzmaurice's infallible taste and brilliancy. The picture carries a whimsical story of a people who are so remote from the lives of ordinary folk that they might well be dwellers in another planet, yet their motives and reactions are all human to a degree.

"The Barker" was a great stage success. It deserves to be even a greater success on the screen.

On the vaudeville bill are several features of marked interest, including the Haines twins and Louise Moody. A talking college comedy is an added screen entertainment.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Well, goodness me," wee Scouty cried. "This is a most unusual ride. Our cabin toppled through the air, and we were doomed to crash. I felt that everything was o'er, but here we are, real safe once more. The Goofygoose is our real friend. He stopped a sudden smash."

"You bet," snapped Coppy. "You are right! We've all been through a mighty fright. Why, when our cabin rope broke I was frightened as could be. But now, what once looked very black, seems brighter on this old bird's back. Just how he caught this cabin like he did I cannot see."

The Goofygoose looked back and said, "Oh, shucks, I simply used my head. You traveled through the air so fast I had to act real quick. I swooped down low and held real tight, and that is how I finally caught your funny little cabin. It was quite a clever trick."

"But, don't feel that you're safe and sound. You still may topple to the ground. The cabin's feeling tipsy and I'm scared that it will slip. I nicker could catch this thing again. Such things just happen now and then. We'll have to find some way to halt disaster on this trip."

The Tinies thought, and then one cried. "I have a plan that might be tried. Why don't we all crawl to your back or maybe to your neck? Then we could hang on good and tight and everything would be all right. The cabin then could go ahead and fall into a wreck."

"A good idea," snapped the bird. "That is the best plan I have heard." And so the Tinies started crawling from the cabin door. They all got out, and very neat. Some hung tight to the big bird's feet. Another grabbed his neck just as the wind began to roar.

(The cabin falls in the next story.)

GO EAST, YOUNG MAN

Fifty years ago Horace Greeley said, "Go West, young man," and many took his advice and went West. There is a growing tendency in the Atlantic border states of the north to say, "Go South, young man," and some are taking that advice. But as we see the number of western men who are becoming powerful in the government at Washington, somebody in the west must have been urging the bright men of that region to go east. Never before have so many men from the west been in control at Washington. In the first place, Mr. Hoover is an Iowa born man, but comes from California to be head of the nation. Mr. Curtis, the vice-president, is from Kansas, with ancestors who lived there before Columbus discovered America. In the Cabinet we find Wilbur from this state, Mitchell of Minnesota, Good of Iowa, Hyde of Missouri, Lamont of Illinois, and Brown of Ohio.

When we go to the Congress, the names most familiar to us today are those of western men. Johnson of California, Borah of Idaho, McNary of Oregon, Jones of Washington, Norris of Nebraska, La Follette of Wisconsin, in the senate, are known the country over. While there are not so many outstanding men from the west in the House, there are some who rank high. In Congress some of this eminence is due to seniority of membership, but the names indicate something more than length of service. The men mentioned above are really of national calibre. More and more the west is being felt in the life of the country. It has become the virile section of the land. New York and Pennsylvania will continue to be strong states. New England, however, which has had such a dominating influence in the life of the country, is undoubtedly slipping. Its investments for some years will continue to control the economic destiny of the country, but as a political factor and as a contributor to the material growth of the country, New England has passed. The men from the west are coming east in strength to control the political and economic destiny of the country.

A PAYING INVESTMENT

The Chamber of Commerce of Santa Ana is in need of funds. It has been tremendously active, not only recently but for years and incidentally it is as effective as it is active. The amount of money, considering the work done by the Chamber of Commerce, is extremely small. There are few institutions which accomplish more, in proportion to the amount of money at its disposal. Every dollar counts and the last thing that the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce ought to be concerned about is the wherewithal to carry on its labor. The business and commercial interests of our city should place in the treasury or underwrite at least a sufficient fund for the Chamber of Commerce to relieve its administrative and executive officers from all worry of this character. This would be the means of notifying them that we have elected them and employed the staff for promotion work and that they can only do it to the greatest advantage when relieved from the concern of finance.

There should be money in the treasury or a group upon whom the secretary could instantly call for certain and specific amounts to supply any needed expenditure. If it were necessary and possible to go out and buy the results which the Chamber of Commerce have already achieved this year, the business interests of Santa Ana could well afford to pay $100,000 for it and more. There is no better way that we can evidence our appreciation of the fine work that has been done and at the same time invest for future work of the same character which we know eventually will bring results than to back up the Chamber of Commerce at this time.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN IN THE SOUTH

The great $2,000,000 film of Uncle Tom's Cabin is being shown in the South. Its Legree, so terrible in the story, is even more terrible in the movie. The escape of Eliza on the ice, pursued by bloodhounds, is frightfully realistic. But the Southern people are looking at the picture without batting an eyelash. The Nashville Tennessean has a cartoon representing a little log cabin, while a figure of an old man representing the "Old South" is doubled up with laughter as he looks upon the cabin.

The showing of that movie in the South and the cartoon show how far we have moved, both in the East and the West and the North and the South, from the rancor and bitterness of the Civil War and the Reconstruction period. If any incident were needed to illustrate that all bitter memories have been buried, the showing of Uncle Tom's Cabin in the South is enough. And this has come about quite recently. It was only a few years ago that the producers of the picture essayed to show it in the South, and the protest was so vigorous that it was withdrawn. Today no one objects, and the crowds go to see it. To the present generation the events leading to the great Civil war are matters of history from which the personal element has been completely eliminated. They are memories from which all bitterness has gone.

RELIGIOUS LEADERSHIP

Santa Ana can well be proud of its leaders in religious work. The churches are well manned. They are expanding and planning on expansion to meet the growing needs of the city. The ministers are men who command the respect of the leaders of their denomination and the confidence and love of their own membership. They have varied talents and use those talents in a manner to inspire trust. We were glad, for example, to note the clear utterances made by the Reverend Mr. Schrock in respect to ex-President Coolidge's articles on proposed armament. They evidence keenness of analysis and the spirit of the prophet.

The course in religious education which is being put on by the Methodist church under the Department of Religious education is not only well conceived, but has been remarkably supported and appreciated by the membership of the church and by the people of the city. And so it is with almost every denominational body in Santa Ana. The work of the membership and the growth of the city are compelling plans of expansion. We need some new and larger church structures. We understand that these are being considered already by the Presbyterians and others, while several have just closed real building programs. We believe that, as we are looking toward a larger Santa Ana, our people can gain a great deal of comfort from the thought that those who are devoting themselves to the moral and spiritual welfare of the city are keeping pace with its material interests.

A Chicago-bound bus was held up in Michigan and 31 passengers were robbed. That's foresight on the part of the Michigan people.

A DANGEROUS MOVE

The International Paper Company has just bought the controlling interest in the Boston Herald and the Boston Traveler, and is proposing to add other newspapers of the country to its holdings. The insull interest through the Gannett foundation practically control all the leading papers of the State of Maine. If this should continue, it will be only a matter of a few years when the newspapers of the country will all be controlled by some great corporation which would control them for its own interest rather than as organs of public opinion or public expressions.

We are not surprised that the action of the International Paper Company has called out a protest from all the newspaper publishers of the country, and that steps have been taken to prevent by law the control of newspapers by public utility and other monopolistic corporations. Trade journals are perfectly legitimate and desirable, but the newspaper, which is the agency through which the people get the news, should not be put under the control of any organization which has goods to sell on a large scale or which seeks rights from the people or from legislatures to control industries or franchises inevitably and necessarily monopolistic in their character and their function.

The publication of a newspaper is a public trust. While it is possible that economic pressure may force control of a paper into other hands, yet the conscientious editor will maintain the independence of his paper as long as it is possible for him to retain it at all. Already, however, many newspapers have passed under the control of large corporations. The growth of such a system will lead to two results,—the absolute control of public opinion in the interest of a class, or the loss of influence over the public mind, which would make the newspaper nothing more than an object of public suspicion. The latter would be the most natural result.

Diversity Confirms Prosperity
Long Beach Press-Telegram

Orange county's crop of Valencia's this year will bring $35,000,000 to growers, according to Farm Adviser Wahlberg. That is more than $10,000,000 above the average financial return for this one product.

Orange county has many other assets of the soil. But that is not all. It has oil wells, and it is facing a great industrial development, in which the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company will have a leading part, according to recent report.

Coupled with industry there are commercial prospects, with Newport Harbor taking more definite form from year to year.

Aside from these resources there is the certainty of expansion along these various lines, especially with the opportunity for increased irrigable area under water conservation plans now pending. A picturesque coast also offers rare residential and recreational values.

It is possible to diversify interests still more broadly in a State so richly endowed as California; and it is desirable thus to spread economic activities that disaster to one basket will not cause general loss.

Florida just now is facing a crisis because of the appearance of the Mediterranean fly, destructive not only to citrus groves but to other fruits and to vegetables. A major fight will be waged to prevent the spread of the pest, and to exterminate it if possible.

A few years ago, California's cattle industry was hit sorely by an imported infection. More recently there was a revival of the danger on a small scale, also through importation. Yet the State as a whole did not greatly suffer in either instance, and valuable lessons in prevention were learned. Quarantine against hoof and mouth disease has been tightened.

What benefits the commonwealth as a precautionary policy also will benefit the individual producer. Specialization has its advantages, when all conditions are favorable. Diversification is a safeguard that comes into good use when something happens to one crop.

Florida's plight is causing California citrus men to think seriously of a danger that may become widespread. Characteristic resourcefulness in meeting such problems will be called into play immediately. The effective quarantine service maintained here by both Federal and State authorities may be expected to be as efficacious as has been the bar against other enemies of vegetation. At worst, there need be no present alarm; but as a matter of good business it will be well to give attention to other possibilities for the creation of new markets, as well as for the development of new products. This is particularly desirable in view of the pending extension of tillable areas under the influence of the Colorado River project as well as of various water frontage enterprises within the State.

Another Setback for Ear-Cropping

Little by little man's inhumanity to man is giving way to a kinder sense of humanity's obligations, and with it mankind's relations to animals are undergoing a constant betterment. The latest indication of this latter fact is furnished in the signing by Governor Roosevelt of the bill making the clipping of dog's ears illegal in New York State. It is not long since similar action was taken in Massachusetts, and it would seem that soon the movement to abolish cropping will have obtained sufficient support in other states to insure that it shall be generally forbidden.

It was particularly fitting that this action in New York State should have been taken during the Kind to Animals Week; indeed, it may be seen as one of the concrete evidences of the results of its influence. The measure in question—the Shonk-Thompson bill—prohibits the showing of dogs whose ears have been cropped, at prize exhibitions after September 1, and places the ban upon the importation of cropped dogs from other states except for breeding purposes. It marks the successful termination of a campaign of many years, and those who have fought against the odds that were opposed to their endeavors merit congratulation for their persistence and unselfish efforts.

ABANDONING HOPE

Although little informed, as is most of mankind On the average medical question, I've been led to believe that we shortly should find A cure for the ills of digestion. I supposed that the great universal desire To grow either thinner or fatter, As particular personal needs might require Was purely a clinical matter.

I was told that the doctors had nearly agreed Upon various systems of diet Which would suit any odd individual need And would keep all digestive tracts quiet. I thought, in a few score of years at the most, We should master our physical forces And the whole population could honestly boast That they all felt as healthy as horses.

But the hope that I held of a heartier breed Has lately been steadily sagging Since I've found that a husband will get off his feed If his wife is addicted to nagging; And a wife, although normally healthy and strong As the huskiest athlete in training, Will find that her health will not last very long If her husband is always complaining.

And so, though physicians are men of great worth And are skilled and able and clever, I'm afraid that the ills we have known from our birth Must continue forever and ever, For never can doctor, or preacher or sage, Or even the state legislature Alone or in co-operation assuage The natural curse of ill nature.

We Prosper Only By Preparing To Prosper

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

NOTE.—The plan for stabilized prosperity endorsed by President Hoover and which is an important part of his program was perfected by the authors of this series. That plan will be the theme of these articles, and each article will be a step along the path toward understanding and keeping that prosperity.

There is no way of prospering today, except by preparing to prosper tomorrow.

Witness the history of Chicago, of Denver, of Detroit, of Houston.

How else could Los Angeles have flourished in the desert? Any traveler, crossing the barren wastes of Southern California fifty years ago, could have seen that a city could never thrive on that site.

On that impossible site Los Angeles has since been doubling its population every decade!

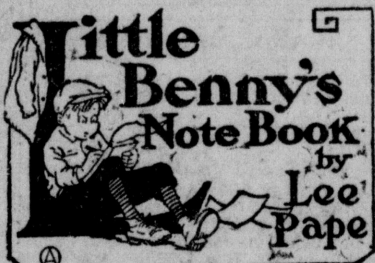

It was faith in the future—faith made manifest in bricks and steel and cement—that accomplished the impossible. For faith and credit are literally the same thing. Credit is belief—belief in the success of specific enterprises. And that is the proper basis for bank loans.

Impelled by that faith, the pioneers went ahead—borrowing money, constructing roads, bridges, schools, hotels, office buildings, warehouses—not for the embryo city which they saw about them, but for the city of their dreams! It was the bold expenditure of enough millions to supply water for a city twice as large, which helped to make that imaginary city a reality.

In laying foundations for a better future, they made the present better than the past.

Tomorrow—Why Not Outlaw Economic Bank?

(Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Mr. and Mrs. Hews came to see me and pop last night, and they started to talk about different things such as prohibition, Mrs. Hews saying, They can say what they please, but I know one thing, I never cease to offer up a prayer of thanks that those terrible beer saloons are no longer a blot on our country.

Yes, weren't they awful? ma sed. They were just dens of vice and gathering places for thieves and robbers and even downright criminals. P. Willis Hinkle had an article in the paper just the other day on that very subject, she sed, and pop sed, Yes indeed, prohibition may be done as much harm as good, but closing up the saloons was the best thing that ever happened. I remember them well, don't you, Yewstace?

Yes indeed, they are one of my tenderest memories, I mean how could I ever forget such a scene on our country's history? Mr. Hews sed.

That's a way I feel, pop sed. More than once I have stood at a saloon bar with my foot on the brass rail, sadly shaking my head at all the beering drinking going on around me, he sed, and Mr. Hews sed, It was more than once for me, too, many more. Well do I remember the weak minded men who use to stay for one more drink at the solicitation of their so called friends while their wives were waiting for them patiently at home, or perhaps not even patiently, he sed.

A saddening side, pop sed, and Mr. Hews sed, Depressing, very. And now that you mention the brass rail, now that I think back on it through the years, I'm not even sure it was brass at all.

I've had that same suspicion, pop sed. When I look back through the mists of time, I'm half convinced that it was gold, he sed, and Mr. Hews sed, The very thought that was in my own mind, what a revolting idea, its just one more proof that no institution can deceive the public and survive, he sed.

And they were going to say more, my ma and Mrs. Hews changed the subject to trouble with cooks.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

WE APE THE INDIAN
This evening I spent an illuminating hour with a book, published thirty years ago, "The Education of the Pueblo Child." Let me condense and restate some of the things this book says about the way the children of the Pueblo Indians are educated. The boy imitates the work of his father. The girl learns household duties by imitating her mother. The purpose in both cases is the same—the exact reproduction of the knowledge or skill of the parents. Variation of the younger generation from the old generation has no place in this scheme of education. The children are not supposed to make any advance beyond the attainments of their parents. The curious, the questioning, the pioneering, the inventive—all this is apparently neither wanted nor worked for. The learner has placed before him a model which he tries to reproduce exactly. Neither time nor material is wasted in trying to improve upon the model, rude though it be. The one consideration is the achievement of skill in doing as he has done before. In fact, in eating, requiring, pottery, basketry, the forms have been nationalized by the religious sanction them, and it was a desecration to alter. The day he had talked to me and to see enter or. "I want him, to have a hand, had, I want him, father." "That sounds like the Pueblo theory imitating one's father, not at all sure of grown the Pueblo, merely want to on us—in prosperity. STEPPING STONES
"Helen is writing notes to that red-headed boy down the street." "Ah?" "Yes. Dropping them into the hollow of the old beech." "M-m-m." "Suppose I'd better not speak about it?" "I wouldn't if that's all there is to it. You'll soon find out if it's anything more than a stepping stone." Boys and girls step fast in the days of their early teens. One day they are round-faced children, calling each other names and slapping each other with cordial good will. The next they are casting sheep's eyes at each other, taking on a formal manner, writing notes and putting them in the post office agreed upon. Well, why not? Let them weather out this phase of growth as nappily as possible. Do not take alarm at the first signal of sex interest. Consider each new combination, each new attraction, as another stepping stone toward maturity and wish it well. Usually if boys and girls are permitted to enjoy each other's society without comment the period of interest is short. One boy comes and another goes. One girl succeeds another. On with the new love and never mind the old is the idea in the early teens. Let it go at that. Try not to tease boys and girls about their beaus and sweet-hearts. It is touching on a sensitive place. The children scarce know what it is all about but they feel very shy about something that is to them very personal and very beautiful. If you have their confidence well and good. Take it with due seriousness and never tell. Not even your most intimate friend for the children's secrets are to be held sacred. Many a child has lost faith in his mother because he found that she listened and told. When you see this interest dawning set about helping the children to keep steady. They need interesting social activities now more than they ever will again. It is time to engage them
